CHAMBER NEEDS $18,000

Traffic Bureau Adds to Service and Expense of Civic Club

Rewarding with the enrollment of 403 members after the first half day of their campaign Appleton's Builders continued their canvass of the city today with a complete personnel and an enthusiasm which should carry them over the top in their effort to secure 750 members for Appleton Chamber of Commerce.

The amount collected at noon
Thursday was $179.00. Major R.
K. Wolters, white division took the lead at this period of the race, with 162 members. While the Pink division under the command of Major Joseph Kofford Jr. ranked second with 90.

REPORT THIS EVENING

Since that time nothing has been reported to indicate the progress of the campaign. All four divisions are working desperately to enroll the largest number of members, but the final result will not be made known until Friday evening.

A complete report will be made at the conference for Builders' at 6:15
Friday evening at Hotel Northern.
No announcement of the results will be made until that time. This conference and dinner will mark the close of Civic Week as well as the close of the chamber of commerce membership campaign.

ENTHUSIASTIC HELP

If the early part of the campaign can be taken as a criterion the results should be very satisfying according to Hugh G. Corbett, general secretary. The majority of businessmen in the city have displayed a splendid community spirit and have been aiding and contributing in the campaign in a most encouraging manner. Mr. Corbett said.

Additional memberships are needed
this year to finance the addition of a traffic bureau to the chamber according to Mr. Corbett. The budget provides for $2,500 for the traffic bureau and $1,000 for the general budget. $2,400 for the credit bureau and $1,000 convention and publicity purposes, making a total of $18,000.

Don Weigle noted community enthusiasm delivered his first address before the public Thursday afternoon.
He talked on The Part Women Play in the Development of Appleton at a joint meeting of the Women's club and business and professional women of the city at the Women's club building.

The annual meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held Monday evening April 12 at Hotel Northern.
Mr. Corbett announced Friday. One of the principal speakers at the meeting will be John N. Van Der Vrie-man, general manager Northern central division, chamber of Commerce of the United States. Max W. Babbs, vice president of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing co. of Milwaukee and a director of the chamber of commerce in this district, may also be present although he has indicated he cannot promise definitely. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at the meeting.

ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY
WINS LENROOT'S PRAISE

New York. (AP)—Senator Irvine L.
Lenroot, of Wisconsin told Canadian club members at the annual banquet Thursday night that continued friendship and justice would bring the Dominion and the United States continually closer together, while neither need lose its individuality and institutions.

The proposed St. Lawrence waterway he declared to be an undertaking which means more to the prosperity of the interior of both countries than any project ever conceived by the minds of man.

TOKYO LEGISLATORS
MIX IN FIST FIGHTS

Tokyo. (AP)—There was no session of the diet Friday following the breaking up of Thursday's meeting by fist fighting between the government and opposition members. The clash came during a debate in which charges and counter charges of political scandals were hurled across the floor.

One legislator is reported to have been stabbed and taken to a hospital.
His wound is not serious.

Woman Convicted Of One Murder Admits Two More

Flora, Ill. (AP)—Miss Elsie Bible Malinski, 44, under life sentence for the poison murder of the former wife of her third husband has substantially admitted having committed two other poison murders and a fourth attempted fatal poisoning the states attorney Harold S. Williams announced Thursday night.

Her other victims the states attorney told the Associated Press were a husband and the former wife of a former husband.

The woman's confession came on the eve of her departure for Joliet prison. Authorities said she broke down under the weight of strong circumstantial evidence, but did not make a complete confession to the crimes.

The information made public by Williams which he said is practically the substance of the confession is that about 15 years ago she poisoned and killed the wife of Harry Bible in order that she might marry him and that about three years ago she fatally poisoned Bible when she became dissatisfied with him as a husband. Her first husband Wilbur Cope divorced her about 18 years ago it was alleged, she had made an unsuccessful attempt to poison him the states attorney said.

Later she was convicted of living in adultery with Bible and according to Williams and her alleged confession she poisoned Bible's first wife and then married him. His death occurred in December 1921 but was not investigated at the time.

The woman became housekeeper for Ernest L. Mahinsky, her present husband and gave poison to his wife causing her death last September 24.
She then married Mahinsky and her arrest followed exhuming of the body of the first Mrs. Mahinsky.

PUT LA FOLLETTE
ON TARIFF BOARD

Wisconsin Junior Senator Given Important Assignment by Dawes

Washington, D. C. (AP)—Senator
La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin was named Friday by Vice President Dawes as the 'progressive Republican' on the special committee which is to investigate the tariff commission.
The other members of the committee were named as follows:

Senators Wadsworth of New York and Reed of Pennsylvania, Republicans and Robinson Arkansas and Bruce, Maryland, Democrats.

The committee will select its own chairman and is expected to begin the inquiry next week.

Senator La Follette is the only senator listed in the congressional directory as a 'Progressive Republican'.
There are half a dozen others who are generally designated that way in debate in the senate.

been gained by mathematicians.
The Daily Cardinal, student daily newspaper in a story today headed
'Prof. Reuterdahl talks despite al-ficulty efforts' charged that 'not even a title of courtesy is being shown Prof. Reuterdahl.' The newspaper attributed the trouble, experienced with the projection screen Wednesday night and the blinking of the lights last night to mathematics instructors.

Denial that any member of the faculty or student in the department was responsible for the lowering of the screen and throwing off of the lights was made for the University by E. B. Skinner, professor of mathematics.

Mr. Skinner said that no disorder occurred until Prof. Reuterdahl had talked for more than two hours when his audience showed signs of 'restlessness.'

COL. COOLIDGE LITTLE BETTER

President's Father Shows Slight Improvement After Restless Night

BULLETIN
Plymouth, N. H. (AP)—Dr. Clair passed the entire morning at the Coolidge homestead. When he left Friday afternoon he said his patient was much better than Thursday and was even better than could be expected.

Plymouth, N. H. (AP)—Col. John C.
Coolidge's condition was improved Friday morning after a night in which he was reported to have lost ground. Mrs. Johnston nurse to the president father told Dr. Albert W.
Clair the patient's physician that the outlook seemed more encouraging.

Dr. Clair received the information at his home in Bridgewater as he was preparing for the trip over the snow covered roads to the Coolidge homestead here.

Mrs. Johnston, who has nursed Col.
Coolidge through several severe epiz-odes, kept vigil at the bedside throughout the night. Angus MacAulley, who has guarded the farmhouse since last summer when the president's father first became ill was another witness.

THREE KILLED, MANY HURT IN MEXICAN RIOT

Topic, Nayarit, Mexico. (AP)—Three representatives of the state of Nayarit are dead and a number of people wounded and one girl is near death as the result of a disturbance occurred when orders for closing a Catholic church were met by armed opposition from church followers.

The immediate cause of the tragedy was in the neighboring town of Jalsquillo, where a Catholic priest had failed to comply with the closing law of the government and was standing his ground against presidential orders with the backing of his flock.
Upon the arrival of the representatives of the government they were met by an infuriated mob of men women and children which demanded their withdrawal.

YOUNG WOMAN ENDS LIFE
BY LEAPING OFF BRIDGE

Rock Island, Ill. (AP)—An unidentified woman jumped from the Rock Island government bridge here into the Mississippi river Thursday. This is the second suicide from the bridge within the last two months. The identity of a young man who jumped to his death in the first instance has never been solved.

BERNICE WALL LOSES TO NATIONAL GOLF CHAMP

Belleair, Fla. (AP)—Miss Glenna Collett of Providence R. I. national women's golf champion and Miss Helen Payson of Portland Me. will meet in the finals of the Belleair tournament for women here Friday.
Miss Collett defeated Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh Wis. 6 and 5 while Miss Payson eliminated Mrs.
G. H. Stetson of Philadelphia 3 and 1 in the semi-finals Thursday.

MEANS' ACCOMPLICE
DIES IN SAVANNAH

New York. (AP)—Thomas B. Feider, who died Friday in Savannah was convicted here last year with Gaston
B. Means former department of Justice agent for conspiring to bribe government officials in the Greager System Glass Casket fraud case in 1923. Feider was fined $10,000 while Means was fined $10,000 and sentenced to serve two years in the federal penitentiary.

MILICENT'S HUSBAND
GOING BACK TO EUROPE

New York. (AP)—Count Ludwig Salm Von Hoogstraeten, husband of the former Milicent Rogers, is booked on the Majestic sailing Friday night.
In a statement Herman B. Goldstein Salm's lawyer said 'All reports that there has been a settlement of any kind in connection with Count Salm's separation suit are absolutely false.'

AMERICANS CALL OFF

Vallance of the state department and other members of the American group selected to assist Major General Tassier in the conduct of the Tanna-Africa pacifics were suddenly cancelled Friday.

Lakes To Ocean Waterway Menaced By New York Political Maneuvering

SAYS LIQUOR IS SOLD UNDER CAPITOL DOME

Wet Champion and Dry Leader Hurl Barrage of Words in Prohibition War

Washington, D. C. (AP)—Liquor is sold daily under the very dome of the capitol and Senator Bleas Democrat South Carolina who makes that charge is willing to prove it to any Doubting Thomas by buying him a drink in the halls of congress.

'Prohibition is a joke,' he told the Washington Postmen's association Thursday night adding that it would remain so until the men who voted for prohibition stopped drinking liquor.

The trouble with congress he continued 'is that they vote dry and drink wet. Bootleggers he said sell their wares every day in the house and senate office buildings and they come to him daily and ask 'how much do you need today, senator?' To a newspaperman who expressed incredulity the South Carolinian later said:

'If you don't think I mean what I say come up to the capitol with me and I'll buy you a drink.'

SCOTTS AT POLL

About the same time that Senator
Bleas was addressing the policemen
Wayne B. Wheeler general counsel for the Anti-Saloon league was delivering a lecture to the police on the subject of total prohibition as against beer and light wine. He told a radio audience that straw bills are as useless as a straw hat in a blizzard.

Only a minority of the people want beer and wine, he said 'while the majority has spoken its mind on this proposition repeatedly, not in straw votes but in official ballots and the majority has rejected the wine and beer plea.'

The executive committee of the league in session here previously had issued a statement scoffing at the newspaper polls and declaring that the drys generally did not participate in them.

That and other phases of the situation likely will be discussed when the committee meets with President Coolidge Saturday.

MOTHER, 2 DAUGHTERS
ALL SEEKING DIVORCE

Mantowau—Among the score of more persons who are seeking divorces at the present term of circuit court are a mother and her two daughters.

The mother is Mrs. Augusta Sires, who asks to be freed from her husband Frank Sires, serving a term in the state prison. He pleaded guilty to a statutory complaint in 1923.

One of the daughters is Mrs.
Juliana Gallagher who would be separated from her husband, Daniel Gallagher.

The third member of the family whose domestic life has not been happy is Miss Hilda Stark, who wants a divorce from Charles Stark.
The latter case, with the mother's will come up during the week.

STUDENT EDITOR RESENTS
PROFESSORIAL ATTACKS

Rock Island, Ill. (AP)—Herman Neison of Escanaba, Mich., senior student and editor of the Augustana College Observer, student publication
'feels that the seminar professors owe him an apology. In a public statement Neison defends himself of charges of libertinism and unchristian views, the label the seminar professors have placed on editorials in the Observer which criticized the college ban on dancing and the nature of speeches made against the theory of evolution at the recent Christian conference attended by 1,500 young people of the Augustana synod.

SHERIFF PUTS FOOT
DOWN ON TUNNEY FIGHT

Miami. (AP)—After Chief of Police Quigg in conference with Gen. Tunney and Young Strubling and their managers had expressed the opinion Thursday that the fight originally scheduled for Friday night might all be held Sheriff Henry Chase flatly told them there would be no fight.

Empire State Brings Pressure on Government for Hudson River Route

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1926, by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—The outcome of the controversy that has arisen as to whether American shippers shall use the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway or turn to the new project proposed by Governor Smith of New York for a canal to go through American territory entirely may be the failure of both.

The fight promises to be long-drawn out and intense and the usual result of a situation in which two rival proposals are presented is that one kills off the other.

Both sides have presented their views to President Coolidge who keeps informed about which he will ultimately favor. Army engineers are engaged in surveying the St. Lawrence project and a report is expected in April. Mr.
Coolidge in the very nature of things doesn't want to comment till that report is available. Yet the secretary of war and navy already have approved the project which calls for a canal through New York state and a deeper Hudson.

POLITICAL CHANCE

Senator Wadsworth of New York was at the White House today to urge the President to back up the recommendations of the Secretary of the navy and the secretary of war. Although Mr. Wadsworth is a Republican and the project is advanced by a Democratic governor in the Empire state the subject has no politics in it so far as New York state is concerned as New York naturally wants the waterway to go via the Hudson instead of the St. Lawrence. Mr. Wadsworth is up for reelection this fall and, of course in the sense that he may be able to accomplish something for New York state his friends see political opportunity for him in advocating the new waterway idea.

FEAR EXPENSE

Similarly the senators from western states who are opposing the New York waterway because they think it is too expensive are aware of the influence their constituents are taking in getting some kind of a project built.
Some of the middle western senators are saying that the New York state project will cost a half billion dollars more than the other and they fear the expense will kill it.

Broadly speaking the subject promises to become a real issue as soon as the report of the engineers is available in April. The idea of a waterway which shall make it possible for trans Atlantic steamers to load at Chicago and lake ports generally is one which every city and commercial center in the eastern half of the United States near the Great Lakes is bound to be interested. Just what effect the proposed waterways would have on rail traffic has not yet been definitely established. The waterways are usable of course only certain seasons of the year but the need for development of inland waterways has been so important since the freight congestion during the World war that it is not believed the waterways generally will lose their influence to fight of projects though here and there individual roads may oppose the new routes. At the present writing it is the advocates of the schemes do not get together it looks as if the whole idea of a new route to the sea will be delayed in being put into effect. Long drawn out debate and rival projects have delayed a solution of the Muscle Shoals question and the outlook for early action on the new canals is for a similar period of invec-tigation, voluminous reports, debate and inaction.

Writs Identify Badger Woman As Hunted Slayer

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Positive identification of Mrs. Mayme Hodge of La Crosse as Mrs. Mae Reynolds sought in connection with the death of K. B. Birkeland of Minneapolis whose body was found in an apartment there Dec. 3 was being made in affidavits filed Friday with General Blaine of Wisconsin, who is asked to extradite the La Crosse woman.
Copies of the affidavits were filed in the office of Governor Christianson.
The affidavits obtained by G. A.
Youngquist and Charles E. Phillips assistant attorney general, who are seeking the extradition of Mrs. Hodge on a charge of first degree murder came from Willis Allen of Minneapolis, janitor of the building in which
'the death apartment' is located.
'Mrs. Mary E. Allen, wife of the janitor Mrs. Helen Dorsett, a daughter of the Allens, and Albin Anderson janitor of the other apartment.
The affidavits of Mr. and Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Dorsett declare that who rented the 'death apartment' on Nov. 19 and gave her name as Mrs.
Mae Reynolds are the same person.
Albin Anderson's affidavit connects Mrs. Mayme Hodge with the renting of the apartment Sept. 6, 1925 and having remained in that apartment until November 25 following.
All of the affidavits with the exception of Mrs. Brown and Bell say they positively identify Mrs. Mayme Hodge as Mrs. Mae Reynolds.
Two other affidavits copies of which were also filed in the governor's office were Dr. E. D. Brown assistant professor of pharmacology, and Dr. E.
T. Bell, professor of pathology, University of Minnesota.
Dr. Brown's affidavit stated he could find no trace of poison in Mr. Birkland's body but said that death could have been caused by chloroform through inhalation or a hypodermic injection of morphine. This, the affidavit said would leave no trace in the issues of the body.

WILL RESIGN IF GERMANY IS ADMITTED

Allied Leaders Decide to Admit Teutons and Sacrifice Latins

POSITION IS CRITICAL

Future of European Cooperation Hinges on Deliberations at Geneva

BULLETIN
Geneva. (AP)—Germany's representatives tonight rejected the proposals advanced by the allied statesmen for settlement of the dispute over the reorganization of the League of Nations council.

Geneva. (AP)—Developments in the League of Nations crisis Friday indicated a tendency to do nothing definite regarding the Spanish and Brazilian claims for permanent council seats at the present time.

Should this attitude be confirmed by the final negotiations between the Allies and German Spain's position is that she will immediately announce her withdrawal from the League.

However Spanish circles are careful to point out that they will not take final action until the negotiations are actually concluded.

The Allied statesmen and some of the other leaders have agreed that the hour is so critical for the league and for Europe that it must be definitely decided whether the interests of international cooperation and peace will best be served by keeping Germany out of the league or by losing the membership of Spain and Brazil.

Their verdict was that it was more logical to sacrifice Spain and Brazil, it became the unhappy necessity than to sacrifice Germany.

SPAIN WILL QUIT

Geneva. (AP)—It is learned from an authoritative source that Spain has definitely decided to resign from the League of Nations unless she is given a permanent seat in the council.
From the same source it is learned that Spain has informed Sweden that because of Sweden's unfriendly attitude in connection with the Spanish candidacy for a permanent seat Spain is thinking of breaking off the pending negotiations for a commercial treaty with Sweden.
This development created an enormous sensation in those diplomatic circles where it became known Friday. Some diplomats characterized it as unfortunate and harmful to the Spanish cause bringing into the league affairs affecting relations outside the scope of the league.

YALE MAY LIFT RULE
ON CHURCH ATTENDANCE

New Haven, Conn. (AP)—A committee of Yale college faculty appointed to consider chapel service regulations recommends that from the beginning of the next college year, students be not required to attend the Sunday service.

'Believing that the expense of compulsion in this regard has rather injured than helped religious ex-tents' the faculty committee holds in its report that students should be attracted to Sunday service by other means than compulsion.
The committee distinguishes sharply
the daily chapel assembly from the Sunday service. It finds in the daily chapel assembly one of the vital institutions of the college group 'bringing together students and representatives of the faculty at the beginning of every working day, and fostering a consciousness of unity which could not otherwise be attained.'

Oliver Twist Said
'I Want Some More'

So did Mr. J. Perske 1102
Union Street who is a weaver of race rugs, after he had used a Post-Crescent classified ad to increase his business.

'I have had wonderful results—and want to advertise in the Post-Crescent again in the very near future,' he said.

It seems to be the common experience of people who use an ad in the 'Business Service' columns of The Post-Crescent, that a sample of this advertising creates a taste for more.
And a la gratias 'There's

CREWS WORK TO CLEAN STREETS OF SNOW AND ICE

Thaw Causes Deep Ruts to Appear on Main Traveled Thoroughfares

Under the direction of Robert Hackworthy, street commissioner, members of the Appleton street department are striving industriously to eliminate the deep ruts and banks of how along the city's principal thoroughfares.

Various methods of leveling the surface of the streets and cutting down the deep ruts which now make driving difficult are being resorted to by the street department crew. If the weather does not warm up, however, the task of cleaning the streets will be doubly difficult.

Workmen have been busy the past few days cutting down the snow and ice on North 2nd, especially in the vicinity of the high school, where the ruts were unusually deep. They are also digging out the snow along the curbing and opening the passageways to catch basins on other streets. This will prevent flooding of streets and sidewalks when the weather becomes warmer.

The warm weather which followed the snow storm the latter part of last week made the snow soft, and when colder weather again appeared, the streets became rough from numerous depressions and ruts.

BOB WILL FIGHT FOR HIGHWAY AID

Responds to Resolution Adopted by Outagamie County Board of Supervisors

Senator Robert M. LaFollette has assured Outagamie county board of supervisors that he would vote for the continuance of federal aid for secondary highways in response to a resolution adopted by the board at its November session urging him to fight the law taking away that aid, but he was non-committal in regard to the resolution adopted by the board asking him to favor modification of the Volstead act. Acknowledgment of the receipt of the resolution also was received from Sen. J. L. Lenroot and Congressman George Schneider.

All three men favored the continuance of federal aid for secondary highways, but Congressman Schneider stated that he believed the resolution on the matter would be brought in the same way as in the past, that $75,000,000 be appropriated for the work for a two-year period, starting in 1927. Sen. Lenroot said he would give the matter careful consideration.

Senator LaFollette and Congressman Schneider both stated that they would give the prohibition modification careful attention when it came up, and Senator Lenroot failed to refer to it in his response.

SEVEN SCHOOLS ENTER ORATORICAL CONTEST

Seven cities of the Fox River valley will be represented at the Fox River Valley Oratorical meeting at Appleton high school on April 18, according to an announcement made by H. H. Helble, principal of the high school. Edward Gleason, winner of the class oratorical contest in Appleton last week, will represent the local school. He is working with Miss Margaret Sherman on his oration, "Protest Against Sentence as a Traitor" by Robert Emmett.

Marquette, East Green Bay, West Green Bay, Manitowish, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and Appleton high schools will have speakers in the contest. The three boys placing in the district contest will receive medals, and the winner of first place will represent the Fox River valley at the state contest in May in Madison.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain
How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

POLITICAL INTERFERENCE
Secretary of War Davis has been taken to task, and rightly so, for issuing a statement advocating an all-American seaway route from the Great lakes. His proposal is a revival of the worn-out and discarded scheme to connect the lakes with the Atlantic ocean by the New York barge canal and Hudson river. No engineers who have more than a local grasp of the undertaking have approved it, first because it is not feasible, and second because the cost would be prohibitive. Mr. Davis defends himself on the ground that he was speaking solely from the standpoint of national defense, believing that such an outlet would be of value to the country in time of war.
It is not clear how a waterway following this route would be of particular advantage to the country as a military asset. It is one of the fantastic notions that come to our public officials from time to time, and which are more or less impractical. In this category is the hullabaloo that is being raised about the inland waterways of the midwest. We have always had an outlet to the gulf of Mexico from the midwest and today it is far less used than before our railroad development. It has been accessible and is still accessible. Commerce does not flow that way. Maybe some day it can be diverted in that direction, but the time is a long way off. The movement for the undertaking is chiefly political.

To go back to Mr. Davis, what the country is concerned about in the plan to connect the Great lakes to the Atlantic is its commercial and economic value, and not its military status. In this respect there is only one route to consider, and that is the St. Lawrence seaway. Mr. Davis' utterances were particularly unfortunate in view of the fact that he is the executive head of a board which is considering a report on the so-called all-American route. The voicing of his personal views would seem to be premature at best. With the reprisal uprising in the West against the St. Lawrence seaway, fostered by the lakes-to-the-gulf waterway supporters, the lake states and northwest will have enough to do to convince congress that it ought to authorize this greatly needed improvement, without interference by the war department or others in military affairs and sectional projects.

Secretary Hoover is giving aid and comfort to the waterway ambitions of the Mississippi valley. His attitude is interpreted in Chicago as favoring diversion of lake water for the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, at the expense of the Great lakes. We fear Mr. Hoover is innocently trying to make himself politically popular in the central west. We do not believe an able secretary of commerce, whose knowledge of economics is perhaps not excelled by that of any other man in the country, would indorse a project that meant the injury of navigation on the Great lakes. Mr. Hoover knows the value of our lakes to commercial, industrial and agricultural prosperity. He knows the volume of traffic they carry, too well to support any undertaking that would impair their levels.
Nevertheless, the Great lakes are exposed to danger from politicians at Washington, principally those in congress itself. The real security of the lake states lies in a decision by the supreme court of the United States upholding their contention that congress has no power to take water from the Great lakes for any purpose that reduces their levels, and we believe they will get it.

THE GOLD RUSH IS ON
A new gold rush is on! Dispatches from Ontario tell of a scramble that may rival the famous days of '98. The town of Hudson, near Lac Seul, is the jumping-off place. Red Lake, an isolated stretch of water 150 miles distant, is the goal. A monster vein of rich quartz has been discovered, and enthusiasm is running high.
At this time of year it is bitter gold around Red Lake. The mercury frequently drops to 60 below zero. There are wide stretches of wilderness where an ill-equipped or luckless prospector can get lost and starve to death, if he does not freeze or encounter a wolf pack first. There are blizzards of an intensity that dwellers farther south can hardly conceive; there are discomforts and small hardships by the score to sandwich in between the dangers. The country in winter is another Alaska.
And yet there will be no dearth of men to make the trip. At Hudson, it is said, dog teams are in so great demand that a single good "kinky" will bring from $100 to $200. Each train brings in new adventures.

Now on the surface it would hardly seem as though there were anything particularly self-sacrificing or altruistic about the men who are venturing into the northland. They are going for a perfectly tangible object—to get gold and make themselves wealthy. At first glance it seems as though it was just another scramble for money.
And yet the story of the gold rush makes one's heart thrill, somehow.
It comes as a welcome relief, this story of adventure. These men are after gold, to be sure, as all of us are; but at least they are daring death, enduring discomfort and toil, risking all they own, many of them, to get it. They are proving once more for us that the spirit of man is indomitable, strangely fine, ready to risk life offhand if the right chord can be touched.

And it is hardly gold in its ordinary sense that these men seek. It is not merely the prospect of becoming wealthy that draws them to the bleak north country. It is less than that—and more. Adventure is in the air; a chance to pioneer, to roam the wilderness and fight the storms and tough hands with death in a new land.
It was so in the great rush to the California fields and the Nevada silver lodes in '49; it was so in the mighty trek to Alaska in the closing days of the last century; it is so now, in Ontario. The strong men, the fearless men, the devil-may-care men—they have heard the call and they are on the way.
So we're glad to read about them. A gold rush is a welcome contrast to our everyday, humdrum, safe, riskless pursuits.
May every prospector make a lucky strike!

SOME DAY
The Field Museum at Chicago, issues a detailed report on the discoveries made by its expedition to Kish, in Mesopotamia, where a cemetery, several thousand years old was excavated.
It prints pictures of the pottery, weapons and ornaments found in the graves. To most of us they are interesting only because they are so imperfect, so crude. We marvel that people could have lived with such makeshift things.
But we don't realize that a couple of thousand years from now, when some historical society issues a report on the civilization of America in the twentieth century, people of that future time are going to find our finest machines and most cunningly devised instruments just as crude as the clay pots and copper hairpins of the old Mesopotamians are to us.

TODAY'S POEM
By HAL COCHRAN
FIRST ONES
It happens just once in a lifetime, of course, but it gives kids a thrill in full measure. The first pair of long pants is always the source of real, mainly feeling, and pleasure.
I guess it's just part of a boy's life to start and dream, from the day he is born, of growing up big to the time when he'll part with the short ones—then long ones are worn.
Most any good mother is dreading the day when her son will grow out of his teens. But fathers, of course, never take it that way, for they're grown up and know what it means.
To step out where all of the world takes its slants! Imagine the thrill, if you can. To youngsters the first pair of grown-up long pants, is the jump between boyhood and man.

Husbands are people who act so silly before company.
Public opinion has it that public opinion hasn't it.

THE ART OF ABSORBING IODIN
It doesn't matter much whether you eat, drink or inhale your iodine, so long as you get enough of it to meet the requirements of perfect health. I suppose you might absorb it in the only remaining way if you preferred, namely, by having it injected into your skin, muscle or blood, but fortunately that expedient is not yet necessary for the great majority of us iodine starved inlanders.
That is no joke about inhaling your iodine. A great many persons take iodine by inhaling, and often they imagine they are absorbing it; through the skin. Apply iodine in solution, tincture, ointment or other form to the skin and provided it does not blister and the skin is not broken beforehand, all of it will be volatilized by the warmth of the body, and some of the volatilized iodine is likely to be inhaled, particularly when you apply it about the chest, neck or near the one big pore between your eyes and your chin. This is the physiological fact which accounts for the absorption of iodine when iodine is applied to the unbroken skin. If there is a wound, puncture, blister or abrasion of the skin, considerable iodine may be absorbed through the raw surface, just as it would be absorbed if hypodermically injected. Now, then, I hope this will not annoy the proprietary medicine peddlers or their unpaid agents the mossback doctors, physicians, physiologists and the nostrum gentry and their customers should not blame me for the utter inapplicability of the human integument to absorb anything which purports to "penetrate"—I don't ordain the functions of the skin.
Often I have listed here the chief foods which contain iodine. I hold no retainer from the fish and oyster trade, yet I believe it is most desirable for health of inlanders that the fish and oyster trade should prosper and increase and multiply. If you can have some of these fresh sea foods on your table at least twice a week the chances are you will be getting enough iodine to lobby along on quite comfortably: Shrimp, crabs, lobster, clams, oysters, salmon, cod, tunny, trout, halibut, whiting, herring. (Remember that unless these are fresh their iodine content is not assured. The only item in the way of preserved sea food which retains a fair proportion of its natural content of iodine is smoked herring, though it is doubtful whether this item alone would furnish an adequate iodine ration. These foods grown inland are most likely to contain none because the soil and water have given almost all of their iodine back to the sea: Cabbage, garlic, green beans, water cress, tomatoes, green peas.
The universal use of iodized salt in place of ordinary salt seems the ideal way to provide a suitable food iodine ration for every one, but as I have explained in previous talks, my faith in the iodine content of iodized salt as it is at present manufactured and marketed has been shaken somewhat, and although I prefer it for use in my own home I still take a nip at the iodine bottle regularly, as does Tony the Irish Wop, for we want to be absolutely sure we're getting our iodine.
The practice of adding iodine (say in the form of sodium iodide) to the drinking water supply of a whole community, as Dr. Goler has done for the people of Rochester, N. Y., is in my judgment, the very best plan which has been proposed for proposed, and Dr. Goler deserves great credit for his wisdom and fearlessness in applying this plan in practice.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Homemade Poison
Kindly let me know if beer (home brew) is good for health or not. My husband drinks a lot of it, and he is very well, but I am careful of my health and I would never take any if I knew it was detrimental. (Mrs. V. R. N.)
Answer—The products of fermentation are scarcely good for the health. Aside from that, the food materials used in the making of beer are harmless enough. Chemists assure us that home fermentation is likely to produce wood alcohol and other poisonous alcohols. In the old days they used to say laconically "Name your poison." The home brewer can brew the poison, all right, even though he can't identify it.

SEEN, HEARD and IMAGINED
---that's all there is to life

'Sworth It!
There comes a time in each man's life when he will pick himself a wife, and meet the fate that's in his cup. He settles down—and settles up.
He meets the girl who seems the one and then the act is done. He seeks the cheer that marriage brings—and gets a lot of other things.
No man desires to live alone. He wants a home all of his own. It pays to have the marriage thrills. And then he starts in paying bills.
It cheers a lot when tots are 'round. Therein real happiness is found. So pep a plenty's soon turned loose when kids are raised—who raise the deuce.
There's eight hours' work and eight hours' play, and eight hours' sleep, so people say, but year by year the work time grows, so pop can keep the tribe in clothes.
The dream man has of marriage bliss in many ways can go amiss, and though his guess is missed a mile—he'll still admit, it's well worth while.

It doesn't do much good to learn something every day, when you can hardly wait till tomorrow to forget it.

NOW, HONESTLY—
How you feel usually depends on how you think you feel.
For instance, if you are in the sympathy seeking mood, and someone inquires as to your health, you often start to complain.
Does you a lot of good, doesn't it? Course not.
"Matter of fact, you only irritate the other fellow. It's fun listening to a person shout, "I feel great," but who wants to hear, "Oh, I'm not so good?"
You can talk yourself into feeling badly—or into really, feeling sick.

The best thing to do with a blue spell is to dispell it.

The Question Box
General Robert E. Lee said: "The thorough education of people is the most efficacious means of promoting the prosperity of the Nation." These words of the distinguished Southern General are none the less true now than when he spoke them. Q. When did Dudley Buck die? J. W. G.
A. The composer, Dudley Buck, died in 1903.
Q. How strong was Sandow? C. D. L.
A. It is difficult to compare strong men. Each has his own special tests, at which he is superior to the rest. A recent newspaper article stated that unquestionably the strongest man of modern times was Louis Cyr of Canada, who was considerably stronger than Sandow. Breitbart, who died in October, 1925, is said to have come nearer to emulating Sandow than any of the latter's many imitators. Certain strong men excelled Sandow in specific feats. For instance, Arthur Saxon was the best lifter of weights ever produced. Steinbach, Inch, Ashton, Travis, Rolandow, and Lurich each had some unusual performance to his credit.
Q. If a patent is rejected by the Patent office, is the fee refunded? W. L.
A. The first government fee of $20 is not refunded when a patent is rejected.
Q. What is the meaning of ski or vitch? They are often found as endings of Russian names. H. P.
A. Ski and vitch are patronymics, meaning "son of." The Slavic vitch, meaning "son of" is distinguished from the matronymic ovna, meaning "daughter of." The termination ski is found in many Polish surnames.
Q. When addressed a letter to a widow, should her late husband's initials be used? R. N.
A. Following her husband's death, a woman is known socially by the name which she used during her husband's lifetime. Mrs. John Jones continues to be known as Mrs. John Jones.
Q. How many marines saw actual service in the war and how many were killed? H. J. H.
A. The Marine corps says that it does not have figures giving the exact number of marines in actual combat during the World war. The number which served overseas during the war was 950 officers, 27,557 enlisted men. The Marine corps records on January 14, 1920 totaled 97 officers, 2,671 enlisted men, making a total of 2,764. From April 6, 1917 to Sept. 10, 1919, there were 3,620 Marine corps deaths from all causes.
Q. Is a man's own name a valid trademark? K. J.
A. Yes, if written, printed or impressed in a particular or distinctive manner, or in association with a portrait of the individual, and as thus used it will be registered by the United States patent office upon application for registration.
Q. When was the Lincoln farm made into a National Park? H. O. L.
A. President Wilson made the acceptance speech of the Lincoln farm near Hodgenville, Ky., as a National park, on Monday, Sept. 4, 1916.
Q. Are cards always dealt to the left? H. H. L.
A. We know of no card game in which the cards are not dealt to the left.

HOUSES INTIMATE PAPERS
There seems to be brave sport in store for those who do not care too much for political parties and who are willing to accept entertainment and information wherever they find it without letting their political prejudices or convictions interfere too much. On March 5, one of America's greatest publishing houses announces, it issued the first two volumes of "The Intimate Papers of Colonel House," as in May, 1914, Colonel House made a trip to Germany in an attempt to avert the World war which he felt, even then, to be imminent. It is easy to see how great the inherent interest of the material of this volume must necessarily be, even if it should prove to be clumsily written.
The second volume is called "From Neutrality to War" and it covers the years 1915 to 1927. Presumably other volumes are to follow, carrying the story forward to the end of the war or the end of the Wilson-House friendship, but only these two are to be published on March 5.
It is inevitable that there will be intense interest in the World war for a hundred years to come, perhaps for several centuries. Publishers of fiction assert that the public long ago for war themes. As early as March, 1919, there was a faceabout from fiction themes that dealt with the war to those that steered clear of the war. But that was temporary. Also, the public was tired rather of sentimentalized stories than of war stories as a whole. It is likely that 10, 20, 50, years from now the real stories dealing with the World war will be written and will be read eagerly by a new generation.
Meanwhile there is room for a huge mass of war documents that are not literature for the most part that have an inherent interest because of their subject matter. The same thing happened after the Civil war. Almost every general and politician who had had a part in the war published his memories. Those books were almost never literature and they were as dull as doilies 10, years after publication. But they filled a public hunger for information as to what happened behind the scenes during the war. A little later the real literature of the Civil war began, as for instance "The Red Badge of Courage."
And the Colonel House book will satisfy the same kind of public curiosity. For the real literature of the World war it is likely we shall have to wait a while longer.

MAN WILL FIGHT TASK OF THOUGHT
Easy for One to Follow Line of Least Resistance in Labor of Thinking Samuel Crowther, in System.
Thomas Edison says: "There is no expedient to which a man will not go to avoid the real labor of thinking."
He has that posted on signs all about his laboratories; he has said it to me a dozen times and illustrated it with cases. He and Henry Ford often discuss it and I have often discussed it with Mr. Ford.
For the most difficult thing in business is first getting yourself to thinking and then getting others to thinking. I say this is difficult because in the natural course of business an "infinite number" of details come up every day. It is very easy, indeed, to keep so busy with these details that no time is left over for hard, quiet thought—for thinking through from the beginning to the end.
A man may keep very busy indeed without doing any thinking at all, and the easy course—the course of least resistance—is to keep so busy that there will be no time left over for thought.
Almost every man tries to dodge thought or to find a substitute for it. We try to buy thoughts ready made and guaranteed to fit in the shape of systems installed by experts.

K. Of P. Take In Class In New Castle

A special feature for each night of the bazaar given by the Pythian Sisters at the Knights of Pythias castle from April 7 to 10 was planned at a meeting of bazaar committees at the Castle Thursday night.

100 Women Hear Talk And Music

About 100 members of Appleton Women's club attended the luncheon at 12:30 Thursday noon at the club rooms in connection with a talk by Dan Weigle, civic expert, and a musical program by the music department of the club. The luncheon was served by the Tourist club with Mrs. S. C. Rosebush, chairman and the Wednesday club with Mrs. T. E. Orison, chairman.

A short business meeting followed the luncheon at which time plans were discussed for the next meeting at which Dr. Bowman of the state board of health will be the principal speaker.

Mr. Weigle's address on How Women Can Best Perform Their Duties in Appleton followed the business session after which a program of music was given. The women's club chorus of 18 voices sang, "My Sun," "The Snow," "A Southern Lullaby," "Winds in the Trees," and "Gracie Song." This was the last appearance of the club this year.

Mrs. Carl Waterman sang solo, and a violin number, "Spanish Serenade," by Kreis, was played by Miss Roberta Lamotte of Lawrence Conservatory. Three numbers, "Fluette," "Trauer," and "Moto Perpetuo," were played by Mrs. C. Richter, and Miss Caroline Hess sang, "In the Silence of the Night," "Cherish," and "Thy Sweet Singing." This was one of the most successful meetings of the year, according to Mrs. Shannon, president of the club.

The next meeting of the music department will be held April 12 when an April stunt program will be featured.

HOLD MEETING TO PREPARE FOR MISSION WEEK

To make men see the invisible and choose the highest was the aim of the address given by Dr. H. E. Peabody on the subject of the Evangel at the weekly church night supper and business meeting of the Congregational church Thursday night. A prayer and testimonial service followed the talk and a solo, "How Beautiful upon the Mountains," was sung by Miss Eleanor McKibbin.

The meeting was held to prepare for gospel mission week from March 16 to 21 when Dr. L. Wendel Piffeld of Sioux Falls, S. D., will be in Appleton. Dr. Piffeld will speak three times a day for the six days of the mission: At noon at Fishers Appleton theatre for men, at 1 o'clock each afternoon at the church, and at 7:30 each evening at the church. He also will speak at the morning services on Sunday, March 21, at the church.

WOMAN'S CLUB TEAM DEFEATS NEENAH CAGERS

Appleton Women's club basketball team defeated the Young Women's club team of Neenah by a 38 to 19 score at Appleton high school gymnasium Thursday night. The Appleton line-up included Lorrain Green, Evelyn Meyer, Betty Dost, Anne Elias, Irene Spider, Esther Ingenthron, and Irene Landers. Lorrain Green is captain of the team, and Miss Edna Steffensen, physical education director at Appleton Women's club is coach.

BOYS FORM CLUB TO STUDY OUTDOOR CRAFT

Members of the Friendly Indian club of the Y. M. C. A. held a meeting at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Methodist church. The club consists of boys from nine to twelve years of age. The Friendly Indians are primarily interested in studying woodcraft and outdoor life. After club members have reached the age of 12 they are eligible for a Pioneer club where the same kind of work is continued. The Pioneer organizations are for boys from 12 to 15 years of age. The outdoor study is still further advanced in the Comrade clubs which is for boys from 15 to 18 who have completed their work in the Friendly Indian and Pioneer organizations. James Ford, a sophomore at Lawrence college, is the leader of the Friendly Indians.

TRIANGLES DISCUSS MEMBERSHIP CONTEST

A discussion of the boys interclub Y. M. C. A. membership contest was scheduled for the Sophomore Triangle club meeting Thursday evening at the association building. The campaign is underway and will continue until March 31. The club reporting the largest number of new members at that time will be credited with ten points in the interclub activities contest. Five points will be given to the organization bringing in the second largest number of members and three points to the club placing third in the campaign.

SUFFERED FOR YEARS FROM CONSTIPATION

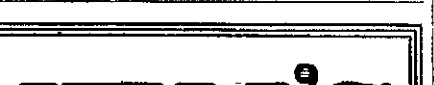

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought relief in three weeks

That constipation need not strike fear upon your heart is proved by this letter from Mr. Thomas Henleiger:

"I wish to write and tell you how much I prize your Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. For twenty-five years I sought relief from constipation without success. But now I have been using your ALL-BRAN for three weeks and I can truthfully say that I am entirely cured and feel like a new man."

THOMAS HENLEIGER,
West Point, Mississippi.

Cleanse your system of constipation's devastating poisons by Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, a health food that sweeps your intestines clean, stimulating normal, healthy action. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or your grocer will return the purchase price. Remember it is 100% bran! Try recipes given on every package. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek, Michigan. Sold by all grocers. Served in leading hotels and restaurants.

EXPERT ADVICE OFFERED GIRLS ON LIFE'S WORK

Professional Womans Club
Sponsors Vocational Guidance Institute

Dr. Jennie McMullin Turner of the state board of vocational education, and Mrs. Flora T. Young, director of education at the Fair store in Chicago, will be the speakers at the vocational guidance conference sponsored by the recreation department of Appleton Womans club and the Business and Professional Womans club on March 16 at the club.

A general survey of vocational opportunities for women will be sketched by Dr. Turner, who will touch briefly on all of the large fields of occupation, without talking about any one in great detail. Mrs. Young, however, will give a specific talk on the store and office as vocational possibilities for women.

The conference is not only for the girl who is out of a job or is looking for another, but also for the girl who would like to find the possibilities for advancement in her present job. A round table discussion will be held following the dinner at 6 o'clock in the evening and an opportunity will then be given to learn more about present and the possible positions, according to Miss Martha Chandler, recreational director of Appletons Womans club.

Mrs. Young was secured for this conference through Miss Mary Herdman of the Collegiate Bureau of Occupations of Chicago, who was the chief speaker at the 1925 vocational conference in Appleton. She is now in the contract department of the Fair store in Chicago, where Mrs. Young is educational director.

The recreational department of the womans club and the Business and Professional Womans club have urged all women interested in vocations to come to this conference, not only those connected with the club.

MENASHAN HEADS EAGLE BALL LOOP

Kaukauna Given First Chance to Round Out Lodge Baseball Circuit

A report was given at the meeting of Fraternal Order of Eagles Wednesday night in Eagle hall on the meeting of the baseball committee of Appleton, Neenah and Menasha which was held in Appleton Monday night. The committee met to discuss plans for an Eagle baseball league to be organized if enough interest is shown in the sport.

Temporary officers of the proposed league were appointed at the meeting Monday night. Fred E. Meyer of Menasha was appointed chairman and Harry Koropod of Neenah, secretary.

Another meeting of the committee will be held Monday, March 22. The Kaukauna aerie will be asked to the meeting at that time. In the event the Kaukauna aerie does not wish to enter into the league, the Oshkosh aerie will be invited to fill the circuit.

The membership committee gave a report on the membership drive which is being conducted by the local aerie and nine applications for membership were presented. Other routine business was discussed.

LESS THRIFT IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Only Two Schools Got in Contacted 100 Per Cent Class in Week Ended March 2

Only two public schools achieved 100 per cent records in school banking deposits in the week ended March 2. Four perfect records were reported the previous week, when 85 per cent of the students deposited money in the school thrift account. Only 55 per cent of the enrolled students saved money during the week ended March 2.

Columbus and the First ward schools scored perfect records and Franklin school was only one deposit short. A deposit of $183.78 was made by 2,071 pupils of the 2,462 pupils enrolled in the nine schools.

The records: Columbus school—212 enrolled, 216 depositors, and $58.58 deposited; Franklin school 297 enrolled, 296 depositors, and $25.97 deposited; Fourth ward school—129 enrolled, 127 depositors, and $17.82 deposited; Richmond school 63 enrolled, 57 depositors, and $6.21 deposited; McKinley school—83 enrolled, 81 depositors, and $11.29 deposited; Lincoln school—157 enrolled, 142 depositors, and $29.77 deposited; First ward school—394 enrolled, 395 depositors, and $118.62 deposited; Roosevelt school—430 enrolled, 297 depositors, and $99.83 deposited; Appleton high school—760 enrolled, 520 depositors, and $116.33 deposited.

MANY FAIL TO PAY DOG TAXES FOR 1926

Taxes on 629 of Appleton's 700 and some odd dog population have been paid at the office of Fred E. Bachman, city treasurer, he reported Wednesday. All dog taxes were due Feb. 1, he said.

Exactly 700 dogs in the city limits were taxed last year, according to Mr. Bachman. It is estimated that the canine population has increased since last year, however, and Mr. Bachman looks for taxes from over 700 dogs in 1926.

The police department is cooperating with the treasury department in listing the city's dogs. A house-to-house canvass is now being conducted by the police.

Failure to pay the tax on dogs makes the offender liable to suit by the district attorney. The tax on male dogs is $1 and on females $2.

A Spring Top Coat For $25

We do not want to emphasize the price, but we do want to emphasize the quality of our virgin wool coats at this price.

The Flavor Is Roasted In!

THE secret of good coffee is flavor. The secret of coffee flavor lies in the roasting. That is why a steaming, golden cup of White House Coffee tastes so delicious. The flavor is roasted in.

The White House roasting process retains and develops the delicate coffee essence that escapes during roasting unless it is carefully preserved.

Make sure of getting this flavor that is roasted in, by insisting on genuine White House Coffee. Then you can always serve coffee as good as the best cup of coffee you ever tasted. Don't accept a substitute.

SHOW TYPES OF MUSIC TAUGHT IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Arrange Demonstration to Reveal Musical Education of Youngsters

Types of vocal instruction in the grade schools will be demonstrated on Tuesday, March 16 at Lawrence Memorial chapel by pupils of the first to the sixth grades, according to plans of Den J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, and Dr. Earl L. Baker, supervisor of music in the grades and junior high schools.

The climax of the evening will be a demonstration for the sixth grade children ending a contest. The contest song will be judged by Dean Carl J. Waterman, John Ross Brampton, Percy Pullinwider, Cyrus Daniel, Mrs. Winifred Quinlan, Miss Gladys Yves Diamond and Miss Caroline Hess. The choir will be marked on the following points: Intonation, quality of voice, expression, balance, and phrasing. Mrs. William Van Nortwick has offered the silver cup to be given to the winner of this contest.

Work in the first grade will consist of rote singing, individual work, care and care of so-called monotonies, and a general discussion of the care of the child voice. Dr. Baker said, "Thirty-two children representing the eight grade buildings will give the demonstration."

START NOTE READING
The second grade demonstration, the instructor stated, proposes to present the beginning of note reading, or breaking the gap between rote and note singing. In this class the parents will have an opportunity to discover how their children are taught to read music, he said. "The approach to reading music as developed in the Appleton public schools is on the psychological and only the best of pedagogy and psychology is used. The demonstration of work done in the third grade will be augmented by a chorus of 80 third grade children beside the 32 children giving the actual demonstration," Dr. Baker explained.

The project in the fourth grade will be the development of the equally divided beat and a study of the more difficult intervals and rhythms. An unusually interesting demonstration of the fifth grade, Mr. Baker said, will be two-part singing which comprises the program of these grades. A chorus on the raised platform will sing the two part songs while a class of 32 children on the stage proper give the demonstration.

SING OPERETTA
"Miss Caruthers Return," an operetta, given by students from the public school music department of Lawrence conservatory will close the program.

This year the music work has been done by the grade school teachers under the supervision of Dr. Baker and Miss Irene Bidwell. "The teachers have done unusually well in their first attempt at teaching music and deserve a great deal of credit," Dr. Baker said.

During the meeting Dr. Baker will discuss the various points relative to the teaching of music and anyone who has any questions to ask about the work may feel free to do so after the concert, Dr. Baker concluded.

LOCAL H. S. PRINCIPAL PAID ABOVE AVERAGE

Appleton is one of six of the 21 cities in the third class in the state of Wisconsin paying high school principals a salary of more than $4,000 a year, it was found in a survey just completed by the University of Wisconsin. Other third class cities paying more than this amount to the high school principals were Madison, Sheboygan, Manitowoc, and West Allis. The average salary is only about $2,500, according to the survey report. In Milwaukee the seven high school administrators are paid $5,000 each, and in the second class cities, Superior pays $5,000 and $4,000 to its two principals. Racine $4,250, and Kenosha $4,000.

KAUKAUNA PLANS ANOTHER CLOSE TWO BIG PAVING JOBS THIS YEAR

County Aid Is Expected on Projects Involving State Highways

Kaukauna—This has not yet been received for paving to be done in the city this coming summer and it is expected that a month or two yet. All of the road is to be paved from the north line of Wisconsin to the south line of Deerpark. The county will pay for 18 feet of concrete on this street, and the property owners on both sides of the street will pay for 6 feet each. The concrete will be completed this summer as the three blocks on Taylor st. not paved last year. This concrete will be completed with the street and will provide a smooth surface through the city. The State trunk high way will be paved over this street. The county will pay for 18 feet of this pavement and the landowners will pay for the remainder. This street will be either 20 or 36 feet wide.

Social Items

Kaukauna—St. Anne's church of the Women's League Order of Daughters will receive communion in a lady at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, March 21 at Holy Cross church. All the members are expected to be present.

The St. John's club met at the home of Miss Esther Mann Tuesday. Prizes at bridge were won by Miss Clara Hoolhan and Mrs. Anna Wolf. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Genevieve De Bruin Tuesday, March 22.

A regular meeting of Oddo chapter of Eastern Star will be held Friday evening in Mason hall. Several candidates will be initiated.

SWERDLOW ESTIMATES LOSS AT ABOUT $18,000

Kaukauna—S. Swerdlow, whose place of business on Second st. was demolished by fire early Sunday morning has estimated his loss at about $18,000, $5,000 of which is covered by insurance.

Mr. Swerdlow says he intends to rebuild his store as soon as a settlement is reached with the insurance company. He believes that it will be practically impossible to rebuild the present building as the roof has caved in and the front of the building is quite badly cracked. It was a 3-story veneered building. Mr. Swerdlow says that if it is rebuilt, the new building will be a brick structure of the same type as the present one.

The remaining stock and shoe machine have been removed to the nearby building formerly occupied by Roberts' luncheon.

YEARBOOK COMMITTEE COMPLETES CAMPAIGN

Kaukauna—A successful subscription campaign was staged by the committee in charge of the publishing of the Kaukauna high school annual over 200 paid subscriptions being secured. This assures the success of the school year book. Lucille Long, circulation manager and Robert Roderick, business manager, were in charge of the subscription committee.

The committee is sending out an other call to alumni requesting them to send in action pictures they have of themselves. So far only a few have complied with the request. Only pictures showing the subjects of the pictures in action will be accepted.

DRAW PLANS FOR CHURCH REPAIR

Committee at Forest Junction Decides to Spend About $1,700

Special to Post-Crescent
Forest Junction—A committee report on alterations and repairs on the Evangelical church building was drawn up Tuesday afternoon. The committee, consisting of five members, elected by the congregation last December to act in conjunction with the trustees and the pastor in making investigations, had called in for consultation Tuesday afternoon Henry A. Foeller, architect, of Green Bay.

The report of the committee contains no recommendation for a preliminary suggestion to remove the spiral from the building. A fire-escape exit, however, will be proposed, as will a direct stairway from the center aisle of the main auditorium to the present exit. A balcony will be recommended to enlarge the seating capacity.

The cost of the combined projects is estimated at $1,700. The report will come up for consideration at the annual meeting of the congregation in April.

John Seybold becomes owner of the J. J. Prazzke property here in consequence of a contract executed this week. The deed will be delivered later. The property includes a dwelling house, a barn, and a 10-acre tract of land adjoining the village.

The Prazzke family will vacate the premises shortly and remove to a recently remodeled residence at 111 West Wisconsin. The purchaser expects to continue his residence for the present at the present location on the farm and will probably secure a tenant for his newly acquired village property.

Mrs. Theodore Schreiber spent a few days this week with relatives at Kiel.

Miss Clara L. Haese was a Brillion visitor on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Edward Jansch of Dundas and her sister, Mrs. Margaret Arns of Manitowish, who had been visiting at the Michael Sommers home, left Wednesday evening.

George Pilger of Brillion transacted business in the village Wednesday.

A sleigh-ride party of young people from Brillion attended the roller skating at the hall here Thursday evening.

Mrs. Paulina Knoepfel and Mrs. Adolph Tracer were business callers at Hilbert Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. R. J. Lopus of Brillion visited with relatives here Wednesday.

Ervin Prust of Green Bay has been spending several days at the Herman Knoepfel home.

NEW LONDON IS AFTER LARGER CITY COUNCIL

Circulate Petitions Asking to Increase Aldermanic Representation

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—A petition is being circulated here which would make a big change in local city government, providing the measure sponsored by the petition is adopted. It calls for a vote at the spring election on the question of increasing the number of aldermen from the five wards to 10 instead of five. They would go into office on the third Tuesday of April. The question would come up to the notice of the voters at the regular spring election and, if approved, the city would then call a special election for April 19, at which time the issue would be formally settled.

The petition states that, in case the public votes for the measure, there "shall be elected in each ward of the city of New London one additional alderman who shall hold for the term of two years, and until their successors have qualified, except that in the first and fifth wards of said city the newly elected additional aldermen shall be elected first for the term of one year, and at the expiration of said one year, two years thereafter". The arrangements would thus be so worked out that, on the first Tuesday of April, 1927, and each succeeding year thereafter, there would be a vacancy in the office of one alderman in each ward.

The question has been discussed much here for some time, and it is thought it will meet the approval of the people at the spring election.

A Cold
Calls for four helps
Apply all at once

You can stop a cold in 24 hours in the right way. Apply that method when a cold first appears, and it does not get a start.

That way is HILL'S. It meets all the requirements. It stops the cold, checks the fever, opens the bowels, tones the entire system. It does this without the ill effects of old-time remedies for colds.

HILL'S is so efficient that we paid $1,000,000 for it. It is so well-proved that millions have come to employ it. Every winter, a large percentage of all colds are being ended by it, and at once.

Get this supreme help. Get it at once. Don't let that cold drift on. You'll find relief tomorrow if you start today. At your drug store.

Tecktonius Wood Stave Silo

Makes Healthful Silage---The Silage That Should Be Fed Your Cow-The Most Valuable Animal In The World!

Best Silo On Earth

One of the many patented exclusive features on a Tecktonius Silo.

Silage, like many things we eat, drink and use, such as sauerkraut, beer, wine, whiskey and tobacco, is a product resulting from fermentation. Fermentation is Nature's way of curing or preserving vegetable matter.

WHY? Because—wood is vegetable matter and man's experience through all the years has proved that wood is the one material which best fosters and promotes fermentation action.

There is only one kind of silage that should be fed, and that is—"Aged-in-the-wood" silage—silage that is free from the staint of dissolved cement or mortar.

Thousands of dairymen—men who have had years of experience with silos of all makes and kinds; men who are in a position to know the feeding value of good silage, made right, unhesitatingly recommend the Tecktonius Wood Stave Silo.

Let us demonstrate the advantages of a TECKTONIUS SILO, and quote price with terms that will be acceptable and satisfactory.

The ARCH-MAKER

The "Arch Maker"

Shoe has a specially designed and patented steel shank-piece firmly fixed in between the insole and outsole that properly supports the bones of the foot. The shoe is also made over a specially designed and patented last—a last that conforms identically to the lines and contour of the normal human foot.

The "Arch Maker" Shoe will relieve those common, ordinary foot troubles.

Do not confuse the "Arch Maker" Shoe with the ordinary arch support shoe, many of which have little or no merit. The world's largest and most progressive shoe manufacturers, being satisfied with nothing but the best, adopted a standard of value in corrective footwear and have named it "Arch Maker."

SYD CHAPLIN AT HIS BEST

IN "THE MAN ON THE BOX"

"The Man on the Box," based on the Harold MacGrath novel and play produced by Warner Bros., and starring Syd Chaplin, opens today at the Elite Theatre. It proves to be one of the most hilariously amusing pictures ever screened.

Syd Chaplin is even funnier than he was in "Charley's Aunt," first as a debonair young millionaire, then as a typical cab driver, a groom, a butler, and finally as a ladies' maid involved in a frantic tussle for a set of plans for an aeroplane invention.

In addition to directing the production, Charles "Chuck" Reisner plays the heavy, a Russian spy. Alice Calhoun is the pretty heroine, Kathleen Calhoun an inventor's wife and Helene Costello the hero's sister. The rest of a brilliant cast includes David Butler, Theodore Lorch, E. J. Ratcliffe, Charles Gerrard and Henry Barrows.

The adaptation by Charles A. Logue and the scenario by Julien Josephson have not lost a single chuckle or laugh of the original story, and they have added a great lot of gags that get every laugh you've got. Without doubt "The Man on the Box" is one of the funniest comedies you'll ever see. You should not miss it.

FOX ADAPTATION OF BOLTON

PLAY IS COMEDY RIOT

"Wages for Wives," the Fox screen adaptation of Guy Bolton's Broadway stage success, "Chickentender," which comes to the New Bijou Monday and Tuesday, is one of the funniest comedies seen on a local screen in a purple moon. Every laugh is clean and the laughs come in bunches.

Anyhow, "Wages for Wives" is a highly entertaining picture and it contains a sugar-coated moral which may be taken or left alone, as the spectator prefers. The plot has to do with the family bankroll, and whether it should be divided equally or doled out by the theoretical lord and master of the household.

Many of the situations are screamingly funny and Frank Borzage has shown a master hand in developing the humorous possibilities. To David Butler, as the village wit, falls the burden of the comedy, and he comes dangerously near "hogging" the picture by his portrayal of a typical small town wisecracker. However, Dan Glavin, who won fame as the skipper of the Toonerville Trolley, runs him a close second as Old Tavis, the station agent.

Others in the cast are Margaret Livingston, Zasu Pitts, Earle Foxe, Margaret Seddon and Creighton Hale.

THE TITANIC FILM

EFFORT OF 1926

The largest motion picture set ever constructed and the greatest number of persons ever used for one scene in an American-made motion picture are two of the outstanding features of "THE WANDERER."

The scene, which is that of an unnamed Biblical city, was built in the foothills of Santa Monica, California, and covered many hundred acres of ground. More than 200 carpenters and scores of technical assistants worked more than three weeks constructing the hundred massive buildings and walls for the set.

For the scene depicting the destruction of the city by earthquake and fire, thousands of actors were employed, as well as hundreds of lions, tigers, elephants and camels.

More than two years were spent preparing for the production and four months were required for the actual filming. Many thousands of costumes were prepared, occupying the time of 100 seamstresses for almost a month. Two crews of men, laboring day and night, worked for weeks constructing the huge interior sets within the studio.

A score of jewelry craftsmen were engaged to make three thousand rings, bracelets and arm bands which were used in the days before "Christ."

The great cast of two thousand is headed by Ernest Torrence, Greta WEIGLE SHOWS WOMEN HOW THEY CAN HELP C. C.

Time Will Come When Women Will Conduct Civic Campaigns, Speaker Says

The part women play in city building is being upped by the chamber of commerce, Dan Weigle, St. Paul, municipal evangelist, said in his address before members of Appleton Women's club at the general meeting at the club Thursday afternoon. The time is coming soon, Mr. Weigle explained, when the chamber of commerce will be occupied in selling Appleton to the outside world so much that there will be no time to spend on the civic programs now carried on under its direction. When this time comes the local will fall on organizations such as the women's club to organize these efforts, the speaker said.

BE HOSPITABLE. Mr. Weigle asked the club to furnish the chamber of commerce a hospitality committee, which is an organization formed for the purpose of making the wives of newcomers in Appleton acquainted in the churches, the clubs, and the social life. Often, he said, men come to Appleton, and through their business contacts they soon know people are asked to join the service clubs or lodges, but their wives are at home, they have no opportunity to meet other women, and they grow homesick for the home town where they had some social life. Sometimes these new families move away, Mr. Weigle maintained, because the women were homesick.

The hospitality committee would undertake the task of taking these new women to church, to club meetings, and perhaps to social functions, Mr. Weigle suggested, thus giving the newcomers a chance to enjoy social life, and thus making them want to remain in Appleton.

Among the civic needs in Appleton, as pointed out in the Better Cities contest, and which he felt could be undertaken by the women in the city, the speaker said, were the tourists camp which will be reorganized this summer, and improvement of the library. By taking a part of the load now on the chamber of commerce an opportunity will be offered that organization to boost Appleton outside of the community, and to foster the enlarged traffic department included in this year's program. This traffic department should be of vital interest to the women of Appleton, according to the civic engineer, for it is the consumer who pays the freight rates, it is the housewife who buys a pound of sugar who suffers for high rates, not the wholesaler or the retailer.

EDUCATED GIVERS. "We are all working for the education of the public mind," Mr. Weigle

Friday
The Nobility of Service

Read Jn. 13:1-16. Text: 13:14. If I then, the Lord and the Teacher, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

Meditation.—The uniqueness of his person and the greatness of his mission did not deter him from menial service. At all costs love seeks to apply another's real need. No fear to lose prestige hampered his impulse to help. "I serve" is a powerful motto. Jesus' ideal centered in inward worth rather than in outward dignity. The example of the lowly-servant Christ, if accepted by the youth of his decade, will make of them the happy and capable citizens of the next.

A poor man served by thee shall make thee rich.

A sick man helped by thee shall make thee strong.

Thou shalt be served thyself by every sense of service which thou renderest.

Prayer.—O God, who comest to us disguised in lowliness to seek Thy dwelling with the humble, may false expectation not deceive us, nor pride shut Thee from our hearts. If Thou comest as Duty, Plain, drab and undesired, grant that we may not turn from Thy commands. Often the homely figure has called in vain, and only when it passed we saw its glory, glory as of the God begotten. Amen.

KEEP UP STEAM, WORKERS WARNED AS THEY REPORT

Weigle Warns C. of C. Campaigners Not to Rest After Splendid Start

Dan Weigle, "civic evangelist" who has been in Appleton this week conducting the "civic week" program and aiding in the Chamber of Commerce membership campaign complimented the campaign workers in highest terms for the splendid record they had made in securing 463 memberships in the first few hours of the drive. Thursday morning in a brief talk at the banquet of team workers "Thursday" noon at Hotel Appleton. The membership quota is 720 and in the first three hours of the drive, which continues until Friday evening, the workers had signed up more than half the quota.

WON'T JOIN C. C. BECAUSE IT OPPOSES CARNIVALS IN CITY

One man in Appleton refused to join the Chamber of Commerce because that organization has used its influence to ban carnivals from showing in the city. It was brought out in the workers report Thursday. Not because this particular individual gets any great "kick" out of attending a carnival does he voice objections to have them barred from the city limits, but simply because he happens to be the owner of a large tract of vacant land which he might conveniently rent to the shows if he only could. He was much incensed because the carnival companies were allowed to show in Calumet-co south of E. Calumet-st.

all day Friday and not sit back at his desk feeling that he had done his part.

To the white battalion, commanded by Major R. K. Wolter goes the double distinction of bringing in the largest number of members and the largest amount of money on the first morning of the campaign. One-hundred and sixty-two members were recruited by the whites and $562.50 was collected. The total amount collected by the four battalions was $1,738.50. Captain J. L. Sensesbrenner's company, one of the five in Major Wolter's battalion reported 90 members, by far the largest number reported by any captain. Captain W. L. Smith's workers, members of Major Koffend's pink battalion brought in $325 the largest sum of money reported by any captain.

The detailed report by companies on members signed and money taken in as follows: Whites—Major R. K. Wolter's Captain—Frank Catlin, 13, $150; Harvey Younger, 16, $187.50; J. L. Johns, 21, $37.50; O. R. Kloehn, 12, $162.50; J. L. Sensesbrenner, 90, $325. Totals—162 members, $562.50.

Pinks—Major Joseph Koffend, Jr. Captain—H. B. Sylvester, 21, $75; Herman Getschow, 14, $62.50; W. E. Smith 18, $225; R. E. Carnecross, 7, $87.50; A. C. Bemler, 30, $12.50. Totals—80 members, $512.50.

Green—Major Walter Joyce Captain—H. B. Sylvester, William Palatnick, 28, $75; Joseph J. Plank, 7, $37.50; E. A. Warkner, 25, $150; Everett Wright, 21, $25; Chris Roemer, 8, $37.50. Totals—89 members, $525.

Orange—Dr. H. K. Pratt, major Captain—George J. Werner, 18, $212.50; Claude Snider, 12, $47.50; Ambrose Wilton, 7, $50; W. P. McGowan, 21, $25; E. H. Harwood, 11, $12.50. Totals—62 members, $437.50.

Poorest Penman Can Write Legibly, Tests Indicate

The poorest specimen of writing in the constructive writing tests conducted in the fifth and sixth grades in Appleton schools was found to be clearly legible by the writing committee appointed to study the problem of penmanship according to the individual needs of the pupils. The committee met this week with Ben J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, to discuss the tests.

Reports were made of the tests as given in the grades of Miss Helen Bower, teacher in the sixth grade of the First ward school, Miss Margaret Sloboskin, fifth grade teacher in the Fourth ward school, and Mrs. Leila Mortimer, fifth grade teacher in the Lincoln school.

A simple paragraph was chosen by the teachers to use in these tests in order that by the simplicity and familiarity of the reading matter that the thought content would be practically eliminated and the entire attention of the pupils would be concentrated on the mechanics of writing.

Each lesson was analyzed and corrected by the teachers, and returned to the pupils for another copy to be made so that they might learn from the mistakes of the first.

A chart of the development of writing from very poor, illegible samples to regular, clear, and open specimens of the same paragraph is hung in the front of each class room. The pupils are given an opportunity thus to see just where they rate on the chart and just how much their writing is improving from week to week. The reports studied at the committee meeting showed that even the first tests were very good compared to the chart and all were legible. Each student's penmanship showed improvement in the last tests over the first ones. Some, of course, to a more marked degree than others.

Members of the committee will work on definite suggestions for individual guidance, and report at the next meeting. Pupils who do not need as much practice in writing as they do in other subjects will not be compelled to spend time in writing that might be more profitably spent elsewhere. Thus individual adjustments are made possible even in class instruction.

MENTORS REPORT ON SCHOOL WORK

Kindergarten Teachers Will Discuss School Music With Dr. Baker

Dr. Earl L. Baker, instructor of public school music in the Appleton grammar schools will meet with the kindergarten teachers of the public schools on March 25 to discuss kindergarten music. It was announced at the meeting of the kindergarten teachers with Ben J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, Thursday afternoon. Definite action on plans worked out by committees on the curriculum, report cards, music and habits and attitudes probably will be taken at the next regular meeting of the group on April 8.

The type of music to be taught in the kindergarten was reported on by Miss Mable Wolter and Miss Norma Zilisch, and this will be discussed with Dr. Baker at the special meeting in two weeks. A satisfactory type of report cards and register sheets was introduced by Miss Elizabeth Wadsworth and Miss Helen Haase, who had sample cards on display.

Miss Maye Holmberg, Miss Lucille Fitzsimmons and Miss Viola Not had prepared an elaborate report on habits and attitudes, but only an outline was given at the meeting because of lack of time. The complete report will be discussed on April 8. Other committees reporting were on the four-year-old curriculum, Miss Rose Helm, Miss Miriam Ornstein.

MONDAY IS LAST DAY FOR FILING TAX BLANKS

The period for filing income tax returns ends midnight, Monday, March 15, 1926. To avoid penalty, the return, accompanied by at least one quarter of the tax due—or estimated tax due in the case of net incomes in excess of $5,000—must be in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, Milwaukee, or deputy collector of internal revenue by that hour.

In the case of individuals whose net income for 1925 was $5,000 or less, a complete return is required on Form 1040A. The commissioner of internal revenue has granted to individuals whose net income was in excess of $5,000 and to corporations until May 15, 1926, to file a complete return. However, tentative returns in such cases are required on or before March 15, and must be accompanied by at least one fourth of the estimated amount of tax due. Tentative returns should be made on the usual form—1040 for individuals whose net income exceeded $5,000 and 1120 for domestic corporations—plainly marked at the top "Tentative", contain a statement of the estimated amount of tax believed to be due, and be sworn to before a notary public, or person authorized to administer oaths. No other data need be given.

35 AT LAST MEETING OF CLASS IN ART

Representatives from nearly all of the furniture establishments in Appleton and other members of the interior decorating class of the Appleton vocational school were present at the last meeting of the class at the home of the instructor, Prof. O. P. Fairfield, of the art department of Lawrence college, 804 E. South-st. Thursday night. Mrs. Fairfield talked to the class following the lesson, on ways of making a home attractive with a limited amount of money. The assembling of the furnishings of the home was discussed.

Prof. Fairfield has conducted the class since its organization last fall. Twenty lessons were studied. About 35 members of the class attended the last class.

"The Changing World"

MANY hundred years ago men of prophetic vision foretold the universal use of the automobile, aeroplane, telephone and the wondrous radio.

In the year 1887 an entertaining writer, Edward Bellamy, predicted that in the 20th century, all cooking would be done in community kitchens.

His prediction is being fulfilled. More than half the food eaten today is prepared outside of our homes. This includes bread and not the least, cookies.

CHAPTER LIX

The man's words, though loud, were unintelligible. Barbara heard a battering of fists on a door and a sharp response in a feminine voice.

Barbara went through the hall and paused at the entrance to the dining room. She could see the room, with the sunlight pouring through it. The table was bare and coated with dust, and one of the oak dining chairs was overturned by the window. The sideboard was covered with nondescript articles, scraps of gingham, spoons, slips of paper that looked like bills and a battered roller skate.

There was no sign of the lady of the house. Barbara's faintness was increasing. She sniffed the air eagerly, for traces of coffee brewing anywhere in the house. But the only odors were dust and a bygone loneliness. She plucked up courage and went into the dining room. From the kitchen beyond, there were sounds of someone moving about. She pushed open the swinging door and looked in.

Mrs. Crummett looked up from an ironing board set on two chairs by the stove. She scowled at Barbara. Then she spat on a finger, touched it to the iron and went on sweeping the iron across the board with vicious force.

Barbara went in. "I've come to ask if you can give me a cup of coffee," she said. Her tone was meek, in spite of her anger. "I don't think there is any kind of a restaurant in Neenah and I am threatened with a rather bad headache."

Mrs. Crummett gave her an unfriendly glance. "I don't serve meals," she snapped.

Barbara's head swam. She groped for a chair and sat down heavily. The woman at the ironing board looked at her curiously, but went on with her work silently.

"I know you don't," said Barbara, "but I thought you might be willing to make me a cup of coffee. It's really rather urgent that I get some quickly. Nothing else will ward off this headache." She sat with her hands over her eyes, while the universe whirled about her.

Mrs. Crummett spat on her finger again and the iron hissed. "Well," she said, "I'm dreadful busy. This is ironing day and I can't stop a minute. You can try the little lunch counter at the bus stop. They'll have coffee." She spread a damp, grimy sheet on the board and slapped the iron down on it.

Barbara rose and tottered from the kitchen. The stairs seemed steep and narrow, but she grasped the banisters and pulled herself up, step by step, by the door.

The sounds upstairs had ceased. Barbara went into her room and put on her hat and coat.

As she started down the steps, the sounds of splashing began again in the bathroom. Mrs. Crummett was just coming out of the dining room, wiping her hands on her apron.

"That good-for-nothing Mrs. Tillman spilled the water again!" she whined. "It's dripping down through the kitchen ceiling. I told her not to do any more laundry!" She made a lunge for the steps and clambered to the landing, as Barbara went out the front door.

The street was more lively than it had been the night before. Barbara looked about with languid interest. Her head was throbbing violently. She passed the brick house with its verdant lawn, and the bungalow that was once the home of Wilma Collins. The washing had been taken down, but the red-eyed poodle sat on the step as though he hadn't moved all night.

A few children were to be seen on the porches, but most of the houses were dimly silent, with windows yawning blankly uncertainly.

Barbara met one or two workmen. They carried tin lunch pails and shouted cheerily at one another. A dashing dressed woman brushed past, usurping the entire sidewalk.

A vacant lot where Barbara had played many games of tennis in her high school days was now grown five feet deep with weeds. Even the posts where the net had been spread were overgrown with the rank stalks of jimson and giant dog fennel.

Barbara turned and walked rapidly toward the bus station. A few doors beyond it, she found the lunch counter that Mrs. Crummett had spoken of. It was merely a wooden shed, with a glass front and two or three broken steps. A man with a soiled white apron and a chef's cap jauntily over one ear stopped wiping oil of the counter with a dirty rag as she entered. "Hello, sister," he said.

Barbara did not respond to the greeting. She took her place at a high stool by the counter and asked for coffee. "Nothin' else?" he inquired sourly. She shook her head.

He brought her a cup of porcelain a half inch thick. The coffee was spilled in the saucer. Barbara lifted the cup to her lips and the coffee dripped from the bottom of it on her coat. She set it down again. "Have you any napkins?" she asked the man.

He shook his head. "Cut out the taffy," he said. "This ain't the Waldorf-Astoria."

Barbara swallowed a few mouthfuls of the brew. It was not bad coffee, but the edges of the cup were greasy. She set it down half full and paid the waiter.

He glanced at the cup. "What's COD LIVER OIL?"

the matter with the coffee?" he exclaimed belligerently.

"Nothing," said Barbara, and hurried to the door. Once outside, she breathed more easily. Even the small quantity of coffee had helped the throbbing of her head.

She was turning toward Mrs. Crummett's house, when she heard her name called excitedly, behind her. Looking around her, she saw a very pretty woman hurrying toward her, a baby carriage thumping after her.

"Barbara, when did you get back?" Mr. Crummett asked her.

"Well, Wilma!" answered Barbara. "I hadn't any idea you still lived here. Everything's so changed since the old days. I just came in last night."

Wilma bent over and put the brake on the baby carriage. "I don't live here. We moved out a year ago. Had to give up the bungalow but the neighborhood got so bad we couldn't stand it any longer. We were losing money every minute we held the place. You were lucky to get rid of that big house of yours when you did. Property here isn't bringing any thing now. Do you know, I've used your maderia luncheon set more than anything else I have?"

A loud voice from the perambulator broke in upon the conversation. Wilma rushed around to the front of the carriage and lifted the baby anxiously. Barbara followed and looked over her shoulder. A round pink face in a fluff of white wool bonnet smiled at them. Apparently the wall had been only a bid for notice.

"Did you ever see anything like him?" asked Wilma.

Barbara stammered. "I suppose every baby is more wonderful than every other baby," said she. "But this one really is exceptionally pretty."

Wilma smiled at her son. "Of course he is. There was never another like him." She put out a finger and the baby grasped it in both his pink hands, and gurgled, wrinking his nose.

Wilma turned to Barbara. "You've no idea what a baby is like, Babbs. I used to scoff at fond parents just as loudly as anybody, but here, I am, singing the praises of my son to the heavens, and not caring who thinks I am a darn fool. I feel so superior to anybody that's never had one."

Barbara could find nothing to say. Your looking well, Wilma, she remarked a little later, as they started back down the street.

"I am well, and I'm happy. That's what makes me look like this," Wilma fairly radiated content from her plump, pink and white face. Barbara noticed that her hands were scarred and rough, as she arranged the blankets around the baby. Surprisingly, Barbara looked at her own hands. They were very white and smooth, with delicately polished nails.

"Well, I must leave you here," said Wilma, when they reached a cross street. "You're not staying down there at the old house for long, are you, Babbs?"

Barbara dropped her eyes. "No, not for long."

Wilma spoke hesitatingly, with evident embarrassment. "Just as friend to friend, let me give you a tip. The woman who has the place isn't much, Barbara."

Barbara flushed. "I'm leaving today. I simply had to have a glimpse of the place, the homelickness for it was so strong. But I'll never be homesick again. I haven't any place to be homesick for, after this."

Wilma turned to look after Barbara as she walked away. Her eyes were full of pity.

Barbara walked back down the street, past the submerged tennis court, past the bungalow with the poodle, past the brick house with its verdant lawn. The yapping of the dog followed her dearly down the street.

She walked very slowly, breathing deeply and trying not to think. She caught her breath as she came opposite her old home. Its equal in the morning light was more extreme than she had yet realized.

She glanced at the room upstairs in which she had slept. The rents in the blind were clearly visible from the street. The window in the sewing room suddenly flew up and a curtain straggled out into the air.

Barbara turned in through the gate and went up the porch steps.

When she entered the hall, there was no sign of Mrs. Crummett. The dining room door still stood open, revealing the dust-laden table and the overturned chair. The door of the living room was closed. Barbara saw a car backed on it, but she did not trouble to read the name.

She looked about her. The bull overhead which had shone blood-red last night, was richly wine-red this morning. The mirror on the hatstand was no pool of bloody light, but only a dull surface with shadows and gray walls caught in its depths.

Barbara walked toward the stairs. The musty closeness of the house had made her head begin to ache again. She climbed the steps slowly. As she reached the upper hall, the bathroom door flew open. Barbara saw a woman come out with a bundle of wet laundry hugged close to her body. She was dressed in a faded lavender dressing gown and her bobbed hair flopped over her face as she stooped to pick up a garment that had fallen from the pile.

She raised her head and flung the looks of hair back. Her childish blue eyes were set in pools of black shadow.

She looked straight at Barbara and, turned away. Barbara stopped breathing.

"Dam you, Violetta!" came a man's voice from the open door of the sewing room. "Come in and shut the window!"

SCENE FROM "LAW OR LOYALTY" AT THE NEW BLOU THEATRE TODAY AND SATURDAY.

TOONEN RECEIVES 250
INCOME REPORTS DAILY

An average of about 250 income tax blanks a day has been returned to the office of Leo G. Toonen, county assessor of income, in the last few days. Blanks had been coming in slowly until Saturday, but now the number is increasing each day. Mr. Toonen said. Over 350 blanks, the largest number in any one day this year, came in Tuesday. Reports must be in Mr. Toonen's hands by March 15.

Council Authorizes Board to Act on Obtaining Lease Near Fox River

Whether Appleton will have a tourist camp next summer depends upon the board of public works. The matter of leasing lot 4, block 88, between Pierce and Alcea parks and Mason-st and the Fox river, was referred to the board with power to act, according to a resolution adopted by the common council Wednesday evening. It was introduced by Alderman Zilske.

The mayor and garbage committee were authorized by the adoption of a resolution introduced by Alderman Earle, to inspect the system of garbage collection and disposal used in some of the nearby cities.

The notice of injury and claim from Josephine Hooper and John Hooper were presented and referred to the judiciary committee and the city attorney.

The application of Olaf M. Lundquist for a bus license was granted. A petition for a walk on Forest Heights was presented and referred to the committee on streets and bridges.

Small Crowd at Meeting

Because of the small attendance at the meeting of the Master Builders' association Tuesday evening in the Master Builder rooms in the Insurance building, no special business was discussed. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday, March 16.

The Language of Squeaks

A LITTLE squeak here—another squeak there. The motor is talking to you. It is serious language if you only understand it. What's the matter? It needs oil.

Oil is an important matter. It serves two most necessary purposes in every car—it prevents wear between the fast moving parts of the engine, it seals compression, preventing the escape of power.

An inferior oil, or an oil not perfectly adapted to your engine cannot perform these services effectively. It becomes old and dirty—with grave results.

Oil is vital to the engine. If the engine is forced to circulate an old, dirty oil, laden with particles of abrasive grit, it gives righteous squeaks of protest.

Dirty oil does not make a good piston seal and the power generated by the engine escapes. When the oil is old and dirty, moving surfaces are no longer protected, metal rubs against metal, and friction begins to eat away the vital parts of the motor itself. Then squeak, squeak, says the engine ominously.

When this happens, heed the warning! Go to a Standard Oil Service Station or Authorized Garage. Consult the chart prepared by the Standard Oil staff of lubricating engineers. They have diagnosed accurately the oil needs of your individual car.

Have the old, dirty oil drained out of the crankcase, cleanse your motor thoroughly with Polarine Flushing Oil, and have the correct grade of Polarine put in. Then, you will sense the joy of a motor in perfect condition, flexible, responding instantly to the slightest touch because friction has been removed by Polarine and all the potential power of the engine is ready in reserve.

Which?

The "Contamo Tester" Shows This Difference

It's easy to see which is the poor milk, isn't it. The first type of milk, containing flavor destroying bacteria, is very common in most milk supplies but—you can't see it with the naked eye or even smell or taste it. One can of milk like that will spoil dozens of cans of good milk and give your pasteurized milk that flat, oldish taste. The Contamo Tester will find it for us if it's there—quickly, cheaply and efficiently.

So if you use our milk you are protected, for we use the "Contamo Tester" to determine the quality of the milk we sell.

What is Dinner Without a Meat Course

You wouldn't think of serving a dinner without a meat course, or something to take its place.

Yet some people are so careless in buying their meat that they risk the success of their whole dinner on cheap meat.

And if they should ruin the entire dinner, it would be because the meat was so tough or unpalatable, that no one cared to eat it.

By ordering from Voecks Bros. this can be avoided. In over 25 years, our reputation for fine meat has been earned.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Do you remember what you used to pay for groceries before we opened a store in this city? Do you realize that every item sold in a Universal store is of the highest quality obtainable? Full, standard sized packages—the same as are found in any other first class grocery—are sold in all Universal stores. You receive sixteen (16) ounces in every pound. You can send your children to a Universal Store with the utmost confidence of courteous and accurate attention. Every item that we quote in this or any other Ad is made up of the world's choicest. We throw out no baits and then sting you on some worthless item. If you will compare the methods used by the Universal Grocery Company with that of any other institution, you will find them in most respects superior in every way. Why pay more when you can buy the best for so much less? Think this all over.

Appleton, West Green Bay, Clintonville and Marion high schools entered the second round of the district basketball tournament Thursday as the result of the initial day's play at the Appleton gymnasium. West Green Bay, the Baymen took the number of Menasha in a surprise game, 26-6. Clintonville squeezed out a last-period win from New London, 14-13, and Marion walloped Kiel, 24-9. The Bay-Pale game, tagged as the best of the opening day's play, was the surprise of the day, while Clintonville, conqueror of the Edison in two previous games by large scores, was forced to stage a final-period rally to win. Appleton held West De Pere to two long baskets in the first quarter, and Marion walked away with Kiel after a slow start.

APPLETON-DE PERE GAME
Lead by brilliant shooting by Al Cookson and McCanna, Coach McCanna's Orange cagers displayed wonderful teamwork and an airtight defense to beat W. De Pere, 10-5. The losers failed to get a clear shot from near the hoop, scoring only on two long tries by Van Sistine, star guard, and via the free throw route. Appleton opened an offense in the final half which had the De Pere guards working overtime. Perfect and decisive passing and neat shooting piled up the score.

Van Sistine, 240-pound guard, was the whole show for the losers, worrying the Orange with his eagle eye for the hoop from beyond midfloor. McCanna, McAuliffe's darkhorse, starred for Appleton garnering five baskets and two free tries for 12 Orange points. The baskets all resulted from perfect side shots or followups. Al Cookson, who got in for only a short time, garnered three markers and displayed the most speed of any man on the floor. Voeks was the Orange defensive star.

Appleton got off to a good start when McCanna sank a perfect backhand shot from the side. He was fouled by Janssen on the try and added another point in two attempts. Skendore fouled and Mac dropped another. Here the De Pere crew threw a scare into the Appleton boys when Van Sistine dropped two straight long tries in three shot at the hoop from just midfloor. Skendore missed a try on P. Cookson's personal and Voeks ended the quarter by dropping one on Van Sistine's foul. Ashman missed a try on Janssen's foul and then McCanna scored twice and Voeks once to end the half 10-5 for the Orange.

McCanna opened with another ringer and Skendore dropped a free try on Ashman's foul. Heisler missed two on Strutz's foul and Van Sistine made one on Ashman's foul before the Macs got started again. A. Cookson, rubbing for Strutz, drove under the basket for two neat markers, ending the quarter 17-6 for Appleton.

Ashman opened the final frame by missing a free try on Heisler's foul, but Heisler got one on the Orange center's mid-air. Ashman, McCanna and A. Cookson dropped three in a row and then Skendore made a pair of free throws on Mac's foul. Mac missed a try on Van Sistine's foul as the game ended, Appleton 23; West De Pere 10.

Follow The Headlines

Follow the ones in the A-B-C Classified Section and you won't be followed by any of these "headlines" that some people call wrinkles.

There isn't any need of having the lines of worry corrugate your brow.

The headlines of the Classified Section will take you through the haunts of Opportunity—where there are enough offers of one kind and another to vanquish both the little and the big worries of your life.

These are not tremendously big headlines—but they are tremendously important just the same. And they are big enough and plain enough to serve for quick reference and act as infallible guides.

Read the classified ads daily—and get a line on opportunity!

LEGAL NOTICES

STATE OF WISCONSIN. County Court, Outagamie County.

J. Rossmoisse, deceased.

Notice is hereby given, that at a special term of the county court to be held in said county at the court house in the city of Appleton in said county, on the seventh day of April, A. D. 1926, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the following matter will be heard and considered:

Application of George J. J. Rossmoisse as the administrator of the estate of Oscar J. Rossmoisse, late of the city of Appleton in said county deceased, for the examination and allowance of his final account (which account is now on file in said court) and for the allowance of debts, claims and other items, paid in good faith without having been first filed, approved or allowed by the court, as required by law, and for the assignment of the residue of the estate of said deceased to such persons as are by law entitled thereto; and for the determination and adjudication of the inheritance tax, if any, payable in said estate.

Dated March 11, 1926.

By the Court.

BRADFORD & BRADFORD, Attorneys for the Estate.

Mar. 12-1926

TO THE HOLDERS OF THE Outstanding Eight Per Cent (8%) Serial Gold Bonds, Series "A" of Riverside Fibre And Paper Company, Second Series, Chicago, in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois.

Notice is hereby given by the Riverside Fibre and Paper Company of its election to retire all of its outstanding First Mortgage Eight Per Cent (8%) gold bonds, Series "A" on the first day of April, 1926. Payment will be made upon said bonds at the office of the First Trust Company of Appleton, in the City of Appleton, State of Wisconsin, or at holders' option, at the office of the First National Bank of Chicago, in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois. Payment will be made at par and accrued interest, plus a premium equal to one per cent (1%) of the face value of each bond so retired for each unexpired year or fraction thereof prior to the maturity date of the bond so prepaid, such premium not to exceed, however, ten per cent (10%) of the face value of any bond

TEN SEEK BED AND WARMTH AT HOTEL DE PRIM

HOTEL DE PRIM

Hotel De Prim, well-known Appleton house, was crowded to the limit, Thursday evening when 10 guests signed the register. Six of the guests were the usual class of customers, but the other four were Clintonville high school students who were in the city attending the Clintonville-London basketball game in the district tournament Thursday evening. They attempted to get home after the game but became stalled in a snow-drift outside of this city and returned to the station for lodging about 1 o'clock in the morning.

The "hotel" is experiencing a busy week, four guests registering Wednesday evening and smaller numbers earlier in the week. Some of the guests are neat and clean out their "rooms" each morning, but others have to be "requested" to do the work two or three times. One frequent visitor all ways sees that all rooms are cleaned before he leaves, doing the others' work as well as his own if need be, of ficers report.

TOWN OF SEYMOUR WILL VOTE ON UNION SCHOOLS

Residents of the town of Seymour will vote on the question of a union high school for the city and outlying districts as a result of steps taken at a meeting of representatives of the city and the adjoining school districts Thursday at Seymour. A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, and George S. Dick of Madison, state supervisor of rural schools, attended the meeting and advised the representatives.

By a vote of 27 to 3 it was decided to put the matter of a union high school to a vote of the residents and a committee was appointed to establish a boundary limit for the proposed school district to prevent the matter in each district so that the residents will be prepared for the vote.

LEGAL NOTICES

Witness the Hon. Ferdinand A. Geiger, judge of said court, and the seal thereof, at Milwaukee, in said district, on the tenth day of March, A. D. 1926.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS BIG PEP SESSION

FRIDAY MORNING

Band and Students Will Occupy West Side of Armory Saturday Night

Appleton high school band will have a special section in Armory G for the championship game of the district basketball tournament Saturday night and all Appleton rangers will be on the west side of the building for the game, it was announced by H. H. Holbe, principal of the high school, at a pep session of the student body Friday morning at the school.

Chaire Miller, cheer leader for the senior class, and Edward Frieders, cheer leader of the school, led student yell. Russell Hayton played the piano accompaniment for the singing of the Alma Mater, and members of the faculty and the student body gave talks. Miss Ruth McKennan, Miss Evelyn Broderick and John Sullivan represented the faculty and John Catlin, Miss Leila Boettcher, James Talbert and Miss May McCloskey, spoke for the students.

The locomotive yell was led by Miss Dorothy Vestal and Miss Esther Austin, faculty members.

A number of visitors from New London, Marion, and Clintonville high schools who are in Appleton for the tournament games attended the pep session and some of the classes at the school on Friday.

BUILDING PERMITS

A building permit authorizing the construction of a porch at 202 N. Fair-st was issued by Mrs. M. Van Rossum Thursday by George Peotter, building inspector. The estimated cost is $150.

A building permit was issued Wednesday by George Peotter, building inspector, to William De Vos for the construction of a basement at 621 S. Outagamie-st. The estimated cost is $350.

5-CENT CIGAR COMING BACK, NYHUS REPORTS

Madison—(P)—The most hopeful sign for revival of the cigar in popularity among smokers appears to be the trend toward 5 cent cigars. Paul O. Nyhus, federal-state agricultural statistician, says in a summarizing report from the United States department of agriculture.

"Cigarette types of tobacco are in the best situation of the various classes of tobacco, with cigar types second and smoking, chewing and dark export types last," he stated.

"The outlook for 1926 for cigarette tobacco will depend upon a further growth of the cigarette industry and there is no evidence that the industry will not continue to grow. The cigar trade has lost ground in recent years due to the greater popularity of cigarettes.

"During the last year a great number of new nickel brands have come on the market made possible in part by economies in manufacturing. Class A cigars, selling at 5 cents, show slightly more sales; class B, 2 for 15 cents, have decreased; and class C, 10 cents and 15 cents, have remained about the same. With more low priced quality cigars there should develop a broader market for cigar leaf at fair prices, especially of the types grown in Pennsylvania, the Miami Valley, and Wisconsin."

CONTINUE ZONING CASE AGAINST EARL RALPH

Earl D. Ralph, 1202 N. Union-st., secured a continuation of his case until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, April 7, when he was arraigned in municipal court Friday morning on a charge of violating the city zoning ordinance. George Peotter, city building inspector, was the complainant.

Peotter issued a building permit to Ralph for a residence but the latter violated one clause by allowing only six feet of ground for a rear yard. Peotter said the offense is alleged to have occurred on March 4 when Ralph started to build on a lot in the Herman Erb addition in the First ward.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Generally fair tonight and Saturday continued cold.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

A slight low pressure area moving southward across the northern plains now overlies the middle Mississippi valley. It has caused light snows from the Missouri valley to the Great Lakes, and rains over portions of the middle south. It is followed by strong high pressure spreading southward from Manitoba, with generally fair weather and low temperatures. This is expected to dominate weather conditions in this section over Saturday, with generally fair weather and low temperatures.

Willard Butler, a student at St. Norbert college at De Pere, is confined to his home at 614 W. Sixth-st, because of sickness.

Those perfect in attendance the past six weeks are Lawrence Simon, Sylvester Simon, Arthur Simon, Marie Van Groll, Louise Seeger, Reynold Hopfensperger, Clarence Simon, Margaret Van Groll, Rosella Hoelzel, Leo Maier, Lucina Seeger, Leona Ashauer and Victor Gregorius.

Arthur Simon ranks the highest in the school with an average 96 1/2. He is first in the school in history, arithmetic and spelling, with a standing of 100 per cent in these subjects. Rosella Hoelzel is a close second. Both are still perfect in attendance since September.

HOME BURNS AS FAMILY IS AWAY

Grapenberger Residence in Greenville Ignited by Overheated Chimney

The residence of Henry Grapenberger of Greenville, about a mile from the Greenville station, burned to the ground Friday noon. Fire started from an overheated chimney about 11:30 in the morning, while the family was in Appleton on business. The only person at home was Carl Ludwig, Mrs. Grapenberger's father and clerk of the township records.

The condition of the roads prevented the arrival of a fire department. Neighbors helped fight the flames but they were unable to save the house. The loss was practically covered by insurance, it was said.

FORD DEALERS RETURN FROM DETROIT MEETING

Three representatives of the August Brandt Co., August Brandt, Walter Clifford and Louis Wassman, returned Thursday evening from Detroit where they attended a convention of Wisconsin and northern Michigan Ford and Lincoln dealers Tuesday and Wednesday. About 370 dealers were present.

After inspecting the Ford assembly plant at Milwaukee Monday, the dealers left that city on two special trains and arrived at the Highland Park Ford plant in Detroit early Tuesday morning. Places of interest visited at Detroit included the Highland Park and River Rouge plants, the Lincoln factory, the engineering plant at Dearborn and the Ford airport.

W. A. Ryan, general manager of the Ford Motor Co. at Detroit, and A. W. L. Gilpin, assistant general manager, were among the principal speakers at the convention.

MISS HOGAN FRACTURES BONE IN RIGHT FOOT

Miss Margaret Hogan, 741 W. Spencer-st, municipal court reporter, will be confined to her home for several weeks because of a fracture of her right foot. Miss Hogan broke the bone Wednesday when she fell while entering the west door of the court house. She worked Wednesday afternoon and on Thursday until noon.

VOCATIONAL CAGERS TO PLAY GREEN BAY

Appleton vocational school basketball team will play Green Bay vocational school Friday night at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday night. This will be the last home game of the season and perhaps the last of the regular schedule.

The line-up of the Appleton squad: forward, Koepfel; left forward, Munster; center, Bowers; right guard, Christ; left guard, Verbiton; forward, Eggert; guard, Krabbe; guard, Ward and.

NINE LOANS APPROVED BY BUILDING SOCIETY

Nine applications for loans aggregating $30,000 were approved by directors of the Appleton Building and Loan association Thursday evening at the office of George Beckley, secretary. Other routine business was transacted.

500 TAX REPORTS IN FRIDAY MORNING MAIL

More than 500 income tax blanks were received at the office of Leo J. Thoenen, county assessor of incomes, in Friday morning's mail. Several hundred more were expected in the afternoon. This is the largest number returned on any one day this year. Monday is the final day for returning the blanks.

MUST HAVE BIDS ON BALLOTS BY MARCH 25

Lists for printing 27,000 ballots for the spring election of Outagamie county on Wednesday by John E. Hantschek, county clerk, must be in by Thursday, March 25. Hantschek said. Bids must be in when the office closes.

Printers will bid on 24,000 official and 3,000 sample ballots. They must be delivered by April 1 for the election on April 6.

SEEKS PAY FOR RIBS BROKEN IN PICNIC FROLIC

Brandt Employee Says He Was Injured While Playing Baseball

Three ribs broken in a ball game at the August Brandt Co. picnic last fall was the basis of a claim for compensation not brought by Frances Meinhardt vs the Brandt company at a hearing before representatives of the Wisconsin Industrial commission at the courthouse Friday morning.

Two other cases also were heard and a fourth was continued when Louis Depotte did not appear to press his claim against the Menasha Woolenware Co.

H. A. Nelson of Waupesa is the commission representative and R. L. Cramer is reporter. Mr. Nelson will visit his home at Waupesa before returning to Madison. Carl Cashon of Stevens Point, representing the Standard Mutual Co., also took part in the hearings.

An agreement was reached in the claim of Leo Grace vs E. H. Ramm, concerning compensation for a fractured wrist suffered by Grace while working in Ramm's garage. A physician testified that there was a 10 per cent disability and Ramm agreed to pay this amount and Grace accepted it.

The case of William Schindler, Jr. vs the Riverside Paper and Fibre Co., for injuries received while working at the company's mill was heard. The case of Edwin Blank vs the Blake Paving and Construction Co., was continued.

MERCURY DROPS TO 4 DEGREES ABOVE ZERO

Old Man Winter seems loathe to leave Appleton, judging from the temperature of 2 degrees above zero shown on the thermometer of the Schlafer Hardware Co. at 7 o'clock Friday morning. By noon the mercury had climbed to only 15 above.

Friday was not the coldest day recorded in March but it almost merited that distinction. On March 3 the mercury tumbled to 4 points below zero. Rural mail carriers said that country thermometers showed temperatures of zero early Friday morning.

POSTPONE FORMATION OF COUNTY SPRAY RING

Organization of a county spray ring for 1926 was postponed Thursday afternoon when the badly-drifted roads of the last few days kept most of the interested persons away from Appleton. The organization meeting was to be held at the office of R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent, but only a few persons attended. It was not possible to start the ring.

Matters to be considered which were to be the bring of a sprayer, the purchase of a spraying outfit, the exhibition of fruit at fairs next fall, and an organized method of selling fruit.

BOYS OF EIGHT CLUBS GO ON SATURDAY HIKE

Boys from eight of the clubs of the Y. M. C. A. boys division will go on an all-day hike Saturday morning on a river to a spot known as Green Patch west of the Hivercreek golf links. Each club will have its campfire and cook its own dinner, if enough boys go on the hike to make separate campfires practical. A program of games and sports is being arranged for the afternoon. The expedition will start at 11 o'clock.

WINDESHEIM AND ORR SUCCESSFUL WITH DEBATORS

Coach Winning Teams at University of Washington in First Year

Debate teams of the University of Washington, coached by Prof. F. W. Orr and Karl A. Windesheim, have won the Washington state championship and the championship of the tri-state district, which includes Oregon and Idaho. Only four debaters were held to determine the two champions, but the Washington teams have won them all, two being audience decisions, and two being judged by the other three-judge decision method. The latter were unanimous decisions for both the affirmative and negative teams. They are using a phase of the question of an independent air force division of the national defense. Both coaches are very well known in Appleton. Prof. Orr was head of the department of public speaking at Lawrence college for 10 years during which time his debate teams and others made remarkable records for their alma mater. Mr. Windesheim was well known at Lawrence college as a debater and, after his graduation, as debate coach at Appleton high school. This is the first year for both men at the University of Washington. In addition to the decision debates, the Washington debaters have done extensive work in appearing in debates before high school audiences. This system of debates was inaugurated in Wisconsin by Professor Orr and now is extensively used. In the audience decision debates, with Whitman college and Washington state college, the Oxford system was used. This plan is worked with a double ballot and the decision rests with the number of people who change their opinion of the question because of the arguments of the teams. It was especially significant that the Washington men won the audience decision at Pullman, Wash., before an audience of Washington State college students. The judge decision debate was a triangle with the University of Oregon and the University of Idaho. It is possible that the Washington men will meet the University of Wisconsin team this season.

STATE BANKERS WILL HEAR DR. GLEN FRANK

YOUR INCOME TAX
No. 6.

The taxpayer must include in his income-tax return for the year 1925 all items of gross income specified by law. In the case of a storekeeper, gross income usually consists of gross profits on sales, together with income from other sources. The return must show the gross sales, purchases, and cost of goods sold. The professional man, lawyer, doctor, dentist, must include all fees and other compensation received from professional services. The farmer must report as gross income the proceeds of sales, or exchange of products raised on the farm or whether purchased by him and resold. He must report also gross income from all other sources, such as rentals or profits from the sale of farm lands.

Net income, upon which the tax is assessed, is gross income less certain deductions for business, expenses, losses, bad debts, contributions, etc. To take full advantage of the deductions to which entitled taxpayers should read carefully the instructions on the form under the heads of "Income from business or profession."

ACHING JOINTS, RHEUMATIC PAIN

New Rugs of Fine Axminster
$39.75 to $62.50

RIGHT NOW IS THE FINEST TIME to visit the Third Floor with a view to seeing all the beautiful new rugs, draperies and curtains that have just come in. Among the handsomest rugs are the Axminsters. There are delightfully subdued backgrounds of French tape with the new black band border. The patterns, which are the most artistic we have ever had, show colorful blossoms or quaint bits of Japanese architecture. While the quality and decorative value of these rugs are high, the prices are quite low. A 9x12 size may be bought from $39.75 to $62.50.

New Treatments For the Lovely Arched Window

Some of the most charming drapery effects imaginable are secured by the proper treatment of the arch top window. Our Drapery Department has worked out a model from one of the new cretonnes at $1.25 a yard over a glass curtain of sheer French marquisette.

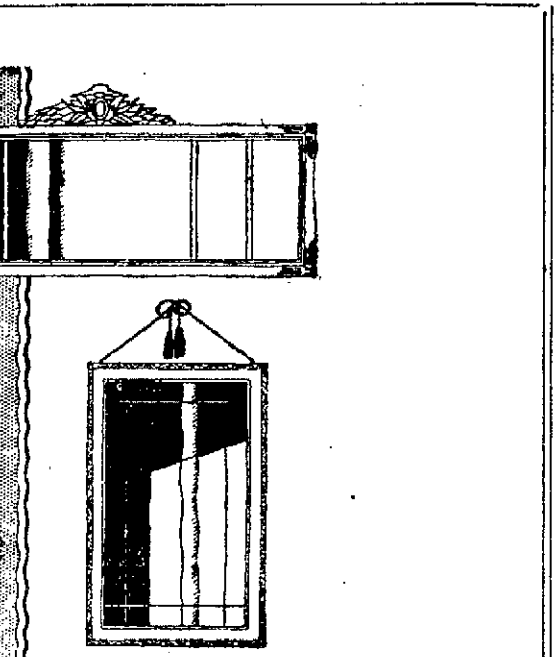

The effect secured is far more lovely than the moderate price would suggest. Mr. Dyott will be glad to consider your window problems with you.

Quite the newest thing in fine lace curtains is the "Bon Volant." You will be charmed with the flowered effect that gives such a dainty, feminine touch to your rooms. If you are planning new draperies and curtains for this spring, be sure to see these lovely curtains. $10 a pair.

Glazed chintz, too, is ideal for the sun porch, the breakfast alcove, for hall and landing windows. 95c and $1.25 a yard.

A Special Sale of Fine Mirrors

Extraordinary $1 Values - Only $1

APPLETON'S FIRST MIRROR SALE IN 1926 brings TWO WONDERFUL VALUES at ONE SPECIAL PRICE! Either of these two styles—TOMORROW ONLY $1.

The two mirrors on the right above are good illustrations of the bargains in this sale. The upper style is 23½ inches long and 9 inches high, not including the ornamental top. There are beautifully etched designs of flowers and leaves in the side panels. The mirror in the lower right illustrates the other style. This mirror is 17½ inches by 13½ inches—with real mitre cutting as illustrated. Both of these mirrors are finished in antique silver.

THESE HIGH GRADE MIRRORS will fill many uses in your home. The wide style is ideal for overmantel use, for hanging over book cases and buffets. The oblong style is useful in hallways, and in any room in the house.

EXTRA SPECIAL VALUES—On Sale Saturday—ONLY $1. EACH.
